English Report Tremendous Losses on Both Sides in Recent Fighting

ENGLISH UNDER FIRE OF FIVE ARMY CORPS

London, Aug. 28.—12:45 p. m.—Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons today that the British troops in Wednesday's fighting were exposed to the attack of five German army corps. The losses on both sides, he said, were great.

Premier Asquith said: "We have heard from Field Marshal Sir John French, commander in chief of the British expeditionary force, that in the fighting which took place between his army and the enemy on Wednesday August 26, and which appears from French official reports to have been in the neighborhood of Cambrai and Lecateau, our troops were exposed to the attack of five German army corps; two divisions of cavalry and a reserve corps of cavalry, and a second cavalry division.

"Our second corps in the fourth division bore the brunt of the cavalry attack while out first army corps were attacked.

Germans Still Advancing.

A dispatch to the Express, from Lille announces that the advance guard of Germans is now at Pont-a-Marcq and Marchiennes.

"This represents," says the Lille correspondent in his dispatch, "a slight further advance movement from Cysoing, where they were reported on Monday.

"There was heavy fighting at Marchiennes Thursday morning when the Germans broke through the French lines. The allies acquitted themselves well, however, and succeeded in pushing the German advance forces back on their main body. The German advance forces were also repulsed at Pont-a-Marcq.

"There was also fighting at Tournai, where the Germans were repulsed. It is believed here that the Germans have occupied Valenciennes but the British are reported to have driven back the enemy near Mons.

"There is nothing to indicate that the allies' line from Mons to Conde has been seriously turned.

"French industrial centers, such as Roubaix and Turcoing, are frequently visited by German cavalry and are occupied and evacuated every day."

BREAK FRENCH LINES.

German Cavalry Successful in Dash Near Arras.

London, Aug. 28.— A dispatch to the Times from Boulogne says it is asserted that German troops, presumably cavalry, have broken through the French lines near Arras in the province of Pas de Calais. The French moved up with rapidity, it is declared, and have the situation well in hand.

The dispatch says that the allied troops are being swiftly arranged to deal with any further attempt to break through the line between Dunkirk and Lille.

Arras, the birthplace of Robespierre, lies some fifty miles east by south of Calais.

The Exchange Telegraph company publishes a dispatch from its Ghent correspondent saying that the Germans have placed a number of quick firing guns in the outskirts of Brussels, principally on the north side, from which direction the Belgian troops in Antwerp would arrive for an attack. Brussels is calm, the correspondent continues. The German flag has been removed from the town hall to the ministry of foreign affairs.

RUSSIANS SUSTAIN NO CHECK.

German Troops in Prussia Evacuate Masurenland.

London, Aug. 28.—3:55 a. m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Paris gives additional war office communication, which says:

"After the victory of the Russians, the German troops in east Prussia evacuated the district of Masprenland (southeastern east Prussia). The Russians sustained no check in this very difficult engagement and yesterday they occupied its western outlets. It is confirmed that they captured a hundred guns from the enemy.

"In Galicia the Russian offense is being continued normally south and southwest of Franpol."

GERMANS ADVANCE BY SHEER WEIGHT

London, Aug. 28.—4:53 a. m.—The Times Rouen correspondent, describing the battle of Mons from the British wounded line, says: "The British artillery was magnificent, but there was not enough of it in comparison with the enemy's. There is universal testimony that gun for gun, both the English and French are superior to the Germans.

"The allies' shells burst without fail. The German gunners find the range smartly, but their shells frequently fail to burst and not infrequently miscarry and fall short. The sheer weight of their massed batteries carried them forward.

"Their infantry also advanced in close order and offered a magnificent mark. Their losses beyond question were greater than those of the allies, but so unfortunately were their numbers. They came and came again. All Sunday the English held their ground. On Monday morning came the order to retire."

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT ISSUED

Indiana Public Utilities Commission Reviews Its Work.

Indianapolis, Aug. 28.—The first annual report of the Indiana public utilities commission, covering the work from May 1, 1913, when it succeeded the Indiana railroad commission, to May 1, 1914, was made public today through Thomas Duncan, chairman of the commission. The report is extensive in character and range, and includes a score of elaborate tables, a summary of the utility law, causes for its passage, its constitutionality, its history in the 1913 legislature and its results to date.

Among the interesting statistical information are tables showing total capitalization and total indebtedness of Indiana utilities; tables purporting to show that "interlocking directorates" exist in many Indiana utilities property; tables showing the rates of service for every class of utility in the state; tables showing the control of steam and interurban roads in Indiana by "par- new construction, tax valuation and ne wconstruction, tax valuation and other details of steam and electric lines in the state and a general summary of each proceeding filed before the commission.

On June 13, 1913, the report states, the par value of the outstanding stock of railroad companies reporting in the United States was $964,741,412. The total funded debt of operating lines was $1,740,033,906.22 and the switching and non-operating lines swelled this amount to $2,982,829,880.22, of which amount $277,753,632.48 was invested in Indiana. A statement shows that the funded debt of the 37 railroads in Indiana is increasing about $50,000,000 a year.

"For the year ended June 30, 1913," the report continues, "but twelve railroads in Indiana paid any dividend whatever. The unprecedented floods of the spring of 1913 worked a tremendous loss to the railroads operating in Indiana. It is our judgment that the railroads spend large sums annually in fruitless strife with the people of the state."

There are 2,978.4 miles of interurban track within the state, according to one table and that these roads have an average stock liability of $40,000 per mile and an average bonded liability of about $34,000 a mile. The report shows that the interurban lines, while in some measure creating a new traffic, have greatly decreased the earning of the steam lines.

WILSON WEARIED BY HIS JOURNEY

President Reaches Cornish Planning to Take Complete Rest.

Cornish, N. H., Aug. 28.—President Wilson arrived shortly after 1 o'clock for his vacation trip of the summer. A light rain was falling and the trip to "Harlakenden house," the "Summer White House," at Cornish, N. H., was made in a closed automobile.

Practically the entire population of Cornish and Windsor were at the station to welcome the president. He greeted all warmly.

Mr. Wilson was tired by the trip from Washington and under the orders of Dr. Grayson he planned to take a complete rest during his stay here. The only pressing business to occupy the president is the executive order he is to issue changing the navigation laws in accordance with the recent amendment to the Panama canal act. Should other important questions arise he will return immediately to Washington.

DEATH NOT DUE TO HEMORRHAGE

A post-mortem examination conducted Friday morning on the remains of Paul and Pauline Ullmer, five-year-old twin children of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ullmer, 422 Fairmount place, convinced Coroner E. H. Kruse that the deaths of the two children Thursday evening, six hours after operations for the removal of tonsils and adenoids, were not due to hemorrhages.

Seeking further for the cause of death, the coroner will direct a chemical analysis of the contents of the children's stomachs and of the urine. Following the post mortem Dr. Kruse and Deputy Prosecutor Callahan issued subpoenas for an inquest. Dr. C. M. Goheen, who performed the operations on the children, was instructed to bring with him all of the instruments used

BULLETIN.

Paris, Aug. 28.—11:28 a. m.—The Havas news agency declares today that two motorcyclists attached to the Belgian army, who arrived in Paris this morning from Namur, declare that the forts at Namur are still holding out and that they are not even ready to surrender.

NORTHERN ARMIES OF ALLIES CUT OFF

Washington, Aug. 28.—"The French and English north armies on the Sambre and Meuse rivers, have been surrounded by German troops on all sides as a result of the latest fighting," says a wireless from Berlin today to the German embassy.

The message adds that the French east army has been partly driven to the south. This has prevented communication between the French east and north armies, while all the German armies are in contact from Cambrai through upper Alsace. The German cavalry has advanced to Ostend.

"The appearance of a Zeppelin at Antwerp," the message continues, "has caused a panic in London.

"Reports to Berlin from Copenhagen and Stockholm announce that there is a grave crisis in the French government. The Spanish ambassador at Vienna has called the situation in France very serious.

"The Danish colony in Berlin has warned foreigners to beware of fictitious news.

"A meeting today of all foreign colonies in Berlin was held, at which a resolution was passed thanking the German government for the kind treatment of foreigners and to express admiration for the wonderful spirit and enthusiasm shown by the German people.

"Civilians of the Belgian town of Louvain made a perfidious attack on German troops while fighting. Louvain was punished by the destruction of the city."

ON THE FRENCH FRONTIER.

London Times Military Correspondent Sizes Up Situation.

London, Aug. 28.—The Times military correspondent in discussing the situation on the French frontier says:

"The news that the allies have retired to the line from Lecateau to Cambrai shows that active defense of the line from Lille to Maubeuge has been abandoned and that these two fortresses have been left temporarily to look after themselves.

"The necessity for holding the interval between the Schledt and Cambrai and the Samber near Lecateau is probably due to the need for holding Mezieres. If the field armies are inferior to the enemy nothing remains but retreat to the Falsais of Champagne.

"If this line is skillfully defended it should be most difficult to penetrate Lafere, Laon and Rheims, which are provided with permanent fortifications. But we are not at that point yet.

"The line from Lecateau to Cambrai must expect an enveloping attack on the north but this attempt will probably fail.

"We have every right to expect success today but if we do not win a decisive victory we must abandon our bases on the coast north of the mouth of the Somme and shift further south, either to Havre or Cherbourg.

"If we are unable to resumed the offensive and beat back the German attack from the north one consequence will be that the Germans will establish air craft stations along the straits of Dover and thereby be able to keep us under constant observation.

"We must meet this by a counter attack with searchlight and anti-air craft guns. Sportsmen should make up practice parties for air ship shooting.

"The Germans will also mount their heaviest guns at any port they seize and nce more there will be an army encamped on the heights of Boulogne.

"Let us, however, be grateful for one mercy. The international financiers, doctrinaires and lunatics who wished to fit us out with a channel tunnel are silenced for good and all."

10,000,000 RUSSIAN TROOPS UNDER ARMS

London, Aug. 28.—5 p. m.—No news reached London today concerning the trend of events on any part of the battle line where fighting is in progress. Interest here is intense for it is felt the engagements now going on must have a great influence on the fate of Paris.

Ten million Russian soldiers have been enrolled under the standard of Emperor Nicholas, according to staff officers of the Russian army who have arrived here from St. Petersburg. At sea also Russia seems to be waking up. The sinking of the German cruiser Magdeburg reported yesterday is hailed here as significent and as showing that the Russian navy is no longer bottled [illegible] as has been day and several quick firers were brought ashore early today. The men present a splendid appearance and all are eager for a speedy meeting with the enemy. The work of disembarking is proceeding with smoothness and precision. Meanwhile the approaches to the station are thronged with sightseers and citizens who express regret that the marines were not landed sooner.

The British officers declare they have not landed sooner because of objections by the local authorities who held a meeting in the town hall where several prominent local officials objected to the British landing on the ground that it would frighten the hotel visitors.

Summary of Day's War News

A series of reversals to British arms on the French frontier is officially announced in Berlin.

After nine days fighting the Germans claim to have put the western line of the allies to flight. The English, it is asserted, were defeated at Maubeuge, France, and the Franco-Belgians forces driven back toward Maubeuge.

Belgian attacks from Nancy and Antwerp were repulsed, it is declared.

Field Marshal Sir John French commander in chief of the British expeditionary force, reports that his troops were attacked by five German army corps and cavalry Wednesday in the neighborhood of Cambrai and Lecateau, and that their casualties were heavy. He does not state the outcome of the battle. Cambrai and Lecateau are French towns about ten miles southwest of Maubeuge and the description of the scene of the fighting reported by Field Marshal French and announced in the house of commons by Premier Asquith today fits in with the battle line indicated at Berlin.

An English correspondent at Lille, France, says the advance guard of the Germans is now at Pont-a-Marcq and Marchiennes, French towns to the south of Lille in the department Du Nord.

A newspaper dispatch from Boulogne reports that the Germans have broken through the French lines near Arras in the province of Pas de Calais, but that the French have the situation well in hand.

British marines are in force at Ostend. A press dispatch from that place says that the Germans are within 20 miles of the place.

A British destroyer has sunk an Austrian destroyer off Corfu, according to a news dispatch from Brindisi, Italy.

German troops are reported as taking the offensive in Belgium.

NEW YORK BANKS NOW TO EXPLAIN

New York, Aug. 28.—Heads of national banks in this city confirmed today the report that they have received a confidential communication from Secretary of the treasury McAdoo and Comptroller of Currency Williams, directing their attention to complaints registered at Washington by borrowers of money on stock exchange securities in this market.

According to the letter of the treasury officials it is charged that the banks had thrown out many loans on made on collateral of the most approved character and that they have in other ways worked hardship to holders of securities at this crucial period.

Acting upon these complaints, the treasury department has directed the national banks of this city promptly to furnish it with detailed information regarding its holdings of securities on loans.

in the operations and also bottles containing the remainder of the local anaesthetics which he says alone were used.

It is said that previous to the operations, injections of one tablet of hyoscine, morphine and cactine had been given to each child hypodermically. It is possible according to the coroner that the drugs used were either of inferior quality or were defective in some manner, causing death by poisoning.

Dr. Goheen Talks.

Dr. Goheen Friday afternoon informed the Sentinel that the operations had been performed in the usual manner of such operations and as he had performed many similar ones during the past thirty-three years. He said that both children revived after the opedation, and that they had not been given any but local anaesthetic. He said that after he had completed the operations he informed the mother that if she thought the children needed attention later, or if anything of a discouraging nature presented itself, she should call him. The doctor says he was called about 8:30 o'clock and when he reached the Ullmer home the boy was dead and the girl was dying.

Dr. R. M. Bolman and Dr. C. C. Kimmel were summoned by neighbors but when they arrived both children were dead. Neighbors and friends of the family numbering nearly one hundred gathered at the Ullmer home after it was learned that the children were dead, and for a time, or until the arrival of Coroner Kruse, it is said, threatened violence to Dr. Goheen.

Were Prize Twins.

The Ullmer twins were twice prize winners at the Robison park baby show and the last honor was awarded them two years ago. They were bright, active and apparently physically perfect infants. They were born in Fort Wayne February 15, 1909, and were pupils in the kindergarten department at the Bloomingdale school last term. They were also members of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. The father is employed at the Bovine saloon and surviving besides the parents is an older sister, Wilma.

Diluted Tablets.

Dr. Goheen, in a statement Friday morning to Coroner Kruse, declared that he had diluted the tablets administered one-tenth, or using one tablet to ten part of water and the hypodermic was administered in two injections of tweny drops each. Late Friday afternoon Dr. Kruse expressed confidence that the children died from hyoscine poisoning.

The babies will be buried in a double casket. The time nor date for the funeral has not been decided upon.

PITILESS THRUST OF STEEL AT CHARLEROI

Paris, Aug. 28.—6:35 a. m.—To the Matin's correspondent at Chartres, France, a colonial infantryman, wounded at Charleroi, related his experiences in the battle.

"We marched with our African comrades against the Prussian guard," he said. "We advanced in bounds amidst bullets humming, using every bit of cover we could. We felt intoxicated with the joy of battle.

"I couldn't say how long the action lasted. All I remember is that we fired our last shot within fifty yards of the enemy. Then it was the pitiless thrust of cold steel. It would have given us the victory for, however intrepid and steady are the troops we fight against, there are no soldiers in the world able to resist the Turco's bayonet charge.

"My regiment's effort, alas! was broken by quick firers skillfully hidden in the ruins of an old factory. We were obliged to fall back and we made enormous gaps in the kaiser's crack regiments."

All the wounded at Charleroi agree that while the German rifle shooting was poor, they used the quick firers with great intelligence. Quick firers, however are easily unmasked, and the French 75 millimetres guns put them out of action two minutes after they are located.

Rescues His Enemy.

A dispatch to the Havas agency from Coulommiers, France, says:

"Among the wounded who have arrived here is a German infantryman, an Alastian, who came into the French lines during the fight in Belgian Luxemburg carrying on his back a wounded French sergeant thus saving him from falling into the hands of the enemy. The Alsatian himself was wounded while rescuing the Frenchman."

Attack in Belgian Congo.

A dispatch to the Havas agency from Libreville in the French Congo, says that the Belgian Congo has been attacked by German troops.

The Belgian administration, in accord with Great Britain, has taken defensive measures and has informed the French government of its action.

VON KLUK HEMMING IN ENGLISH AT MAUBEUGE

Berlin, Aug. 28.—(By Wireless to the Associated Press, Via Sayville, L. I.)—7:46 a. m—Headquarters has issued an official report declaring that the western enemy has everywhere been defeated and is in full retreat after nine days' fighting.

Generals Von Buelow and Von Hausen completely defeated the Franco-Belgian forces, about eight corps, between the Sambre and the Namur and the Meuse in several days' battle and are now pursuing them to the eastward of Maubeuge.

The attack of Maubeuge was opened by the Grand Duke Albrecht, of Wurtemberg, who defeated and pursued the enemy across the Semois and the Meuse. The German crow prince is advancing towards the Meuse and the crown prince of Bavaria repulsed an attack from Nancy and the south.

Continues the Pursuit.

Gen. Von Heringen continues the pursuit southward through the Vosges. Four Belgian divisions attacking Tuesday and Wednesday from Antwerp have been repulsed, losing guns and many prisoners. The Belgian population generally participated in the fighting necessitating severe repressive measures.

The corps of last reserves have been called out to guard communications.

The Friars' club has postponed its dance to have been held Friday night at Robison park until next Friday.

It is difficult to describe the fierce exultation of all classes in Berlin over the news of the British reverses at Maubeuge, as announced officially from army headquarters today.

The German resentment against England for having "injected herself into this conflict," and for calling in Japan, a yellow race, is so deep that news of the surrender of the British army on the continent would be received with more joy and satisfaction in Berlin than tidings of the fall of Paris.

It is reported here today that a portion of the British force is at present shut up in Maubeuge.

The Berlin populace, inspired by the announcement from military headquarters that the "iron ring" is making its way around the French, British and Belgian forces from Cambrai to the Vosges, exhibits little concern regarding the situation on the eastern frontier of Germany. It has full confidence that the task on the west line will be speedily finished and that the victorious German armies will then make sharp work of clearing German soil of the Russians.

A correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt reports that Louvain, in Belgium, bitterly punished for the uprising of its civilian population, has almost ceased to exist.

BRAVE DEFENCE BY BELGIANS FAILURE

London, Aug. 28.—The Mail's correspondent at Rotterdam sends a telegram from Antwerp, dated Thursday night which says:

"After a magnificent defense of two days by the Belgian army, Malines was re-taken by the Germans.

"On the first day 20,000 Germans opposed the Belgians and on the second day 40,000 threw their might against a greatly inferior force. The Belgians retired on Antwerp leaving the enemy in possession of the town. The Germans immediately entrenched after ordering the inhabitants to leave. Wachten and Heindoniek were destroyed by the retreating Belgians to prevent their being used as a cover by the enemy in their operations against Antwerp.

"Refugees at Rosendaal say the Germans possessed amazing knowledge of the roads. The German attack on Malines was furious and inspired by a desire to end the sorties which the Belgians were making from the town against their trenches and around Brussels.

"The Belgians had made successful attacks on the German lines of communication and had seriously hampered their operations. This necessitated the return of the fourth German army corps which had already started for the south.

"Sixty thousand Belgian refugees fled from the town.

"The Germans are furious at the Belgian operations and declare they will raze Antwerp to the ground in revenge.

"Emile Vandervelde, the Belgian socialist, was one of the most prominent figures in the battle, encouraging the Belgians who, he said, were fighting for the most righteous cause in the world."

Fort Smith, Ark., Aug. 28.—Twelve persons were injured, none fatally, today when Kansas City southern passenger train No. 1, south bound, was derailed near Marble City, Okla. A broken rail caused the accident. All the cars left the rails and the mail car, smoking car and chair car turned over.

Photograph shows French "Turcos" wading through a stream in maneuvers. The "Turcos," though not themselves Europeans were the first surpassing heroes of the war in Europe. A regiment of them at the BATTLE OF CHARLEROI was sent against a strong German battery with the bayonet. The battery was supported by a heavy force of German riflemen, but the "Turcos" charged to the cannon mouth with the cold steel. They were 600 when they started. When they took the battery and turned it on the Germans there were only 100 of them left. The "Turcos" belong to the foreign legion of the French army. They are recruited from the Arabs and Bedouins of Algiers, a French African possession.

Tires at Before-War Prices

Yet We Never Got Choicer Rubber We Never Built Better Tires

There exists now a new reason—most compelling—for buying Goodyear Tires. It results from war conditions.

These leading tires—built of extra-fine rubber, in the same way as always—are selling today at June prices.

Due to Quick Action

Early in August—when war began—the world's rubber markets seemed suddenly closed to us. Rubber prices doubled almost over night.

Men could see no way to pay for rubber abroad, and no way to bring it in. We, like others—in that panic—were forced to higher prices. But we have since gone back to prices we charged before the war, and this is how we did it:

We had men in London and Singapore when the war broke out. The larger part of the world's rubber supply comes through there. We cabled them to buy up the pick of the rubber. They bought—before the advance—1,500,000 pounds of the finest rubber there.

Nearly all this is now on the way to us. And it means practically all of the extra-grade rubber obtainable abroad.

Today we have our own men in Colombo, Singapore and Para. Those are the world's chief sources of rubber. So we are pretty well assured of a constant supply, and our pick of the best that's produced.

We were first on the ground. We were quickest in action. As a result, we shall soon have in storage an almost record supply of this extra grade of rubber.

And we paid about June prices.

Now Inferior Grades Cost Double

About the only crude rubber available now for many makers is inferior. In ordinary times, the best tire makers refuse it. Much of it has been rejected. But that "off rubber" now sells for much more than we paid for the best.

The results are these:

Tire prices in general are far in advance of Goodyears. And many tire makers, short of supplies, will be forced to use second-grade rubber.

Be Careful Now

In Goodyears we pledge you the same-grade tire as always. And that grade won for Goodyears the top place in Tiredom—the largest sale in the world.

And, for the time being, our prices are the same as before the war. We shall try to keep them there.

We accept no exeessive orders, but dealers will be kept supplied. And we charge them, until further notice, only ante-bellum prices.

That means that Goodyears—the best tires built—are selling way below other tires.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

John 9:1-12.

1 And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind? 3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but thatthe works of God should be made man ifest in him.

4 I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,

7 And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way threfore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

FRIDAY, AUG. 28, 1914.

The Offer to Mr. Foster

When he tendered the important appointment of ambassador of the Argentine Republic to Samuel M. Foster, of Fort Wayne, President Wilson supplied another example of his capacity for selecting high-grade men for governmental posts of exalted and first consequence. That Mr. Foster has said that he does not feel that he can accept the place in no wise detracts from the honor paid him, and, incidentally, to Fort Wayne, also, by the president's action.

To have been the president's selection as the first representative of the United States to bear the rank of ambassador to the Argentine government is no mean distinction. The place was but recently raised by congress from minister to that of ambassador, the change carrying with it additional importance and new dignity in the diplomatic world, with its incidental advantages in the matter of salary. The latter phase, however, is perhaps of minor importance from the fact that ordinarily no diplomatic representative of the United States is able to maintain his station in magnitude befitting the dignity and importance of the United States without supplementing the diplomatic salary by rather imposing contributions from the private purse. It will doubtless be true in the case of the new ambassador to Argentine, whoever he may be. Buenos Aires, often called "the Paris of South America," will doubtless levy a considerable tribute on the personal exchequer of the man whm Uncle Sam sends to represent him at that point.

Mr. Foster's reasons for declining the post will doubtless appeal with much force to those who enjoy his close acquaintance. His tastes and inclinations are in no wise along the line of diplomatic ceremony. He is essentially a business man, forceful and successful. His business interests are of much magnitude, but he is able to look forward to the time when he may round out his career in relaxation from the manifold activities which have claimed his best years. This does not mean idleness for Mr. Foster could not be idle if he set out to do so. His will be to the last the vigorous, progressive, public-spirited personality that has long since won him first rank in citizenship in the community which has so long been his home. From Mr. Foster's standpoint he doubtless reasons well in declining to assume the new and untried burdens of high diplomatic responsibility, however strong may be the lure of an honor so high. That he would be successful in it, and that his services would be of tremendous value to the government are two elements in the situation that admit of no doubt, and the tender of the place is a distinction the recollection of which can never cease to be gratifying both to Mr. Foster and to Fort Wayne.

Chairman McCombs is out in a warning to New York politicians gainst what he terms "back stairs conspiracies" in political practice in that state. The popular impression is that that sort of thing has obtained in New York so long that New York fancies she cannot keep political house without it.

The policy of "watchful waiting" has again been vindicated. The sheriff of Brown county lay most of the night in the hills watching a function announced as an "ice cream social" and discovered it to be the liveliest sort of a blind tiger enterprise. Arrests followed.

Opposing an advance in tax rates, the auditor of Marion county declares that this is no time to raise 'em. As a matter of fact, the average citizen will agree that this position is, has always been and will continue to be the eminently correct one for all time to come.

One cannot help wondering whether tomorrow is going to be a German day or French day in the war news. The warriors seem to be taking a rather regular turn about in getting the better of the tidings from the front.

DOCKING ABSENTEES.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

The resulution adopted by the house yesterday to enforce the law that has been ignored for twenty years, docking members for absence except through illness, provokes a howl of discrimination. It is asserted by republican and progressive members that the resolution was adopted only after the southern democrats had concluded their campaigns for renomination at the primaries, which is equivalent to election, whereas the republican and progressive members from northern states have to make their campaign from now on. The fact as stated is true enough, but if there has been any discrimination it operates just as effectively against the northern democratic members as their republican and progressive colleagues. It may, therefore, be inferred that the discrimination clamor is for partisan consumption and like many other assertions made by all parties at times for the same effect bears no necessary relation to the fact.

The last time this law was enforced was during the previous democratic administration, when it was resorted to to hold votes for the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill. But it was a temporary spasm of virtue, the old practice of ignoring the law being resumed, apparently with unanimous non-partisan consent, within a few months. The vote of yesterday can not be regarded as promising a longer enforcement now. As one member frankly admits, to have voted against the resolution would have been more awkward than to vote for it. But any assumption that hereafter members of the house will be compelled to be in their seats each day to collect their pay would be excessively optimistic. When the excitement has blown over the checking officer will probably be tipped off to "forget it," just as it was forgotten twenty years ago.

Nevertheless, there can be no question of the correctness of the attitude assumed by the house yesterday. The law is on the statute books. It is a good one, designed to guarantee that members of congress shall learn their salaries. The lawmakers can not afford to set the example of ignoring the law.

THE COMMON SOLDIER'S LOT.

(Toledo Blade.)

Wherever possible, an enlisted man in one of the big European armies is saved the fatigue of marching. In the American civil war, the enlisted man marched great distances over rocky and frozen roads and roads of bottomless mud.

The commanding officers in Europe always have in mind the physical condition of the soldier and the medical staff is charged more with the duty of maintaining the armies in good health than with caring for the wounded. Little thought was given the general health of the northern and southern armies in our great war, the generals concentrating their attention mostly upon strategy.

The camps in Europe are guarded against epidemic. Disease swept through the camps of the civil war until at the end of hostilities more men had died of disease than had died of wounds.

The European soldier is well clothed. His footgear is as good as can be made. In his outfit is material for staunching bleeding and for binding up wounds. The American soldier of the war of the rebellion was, more frequently than not, insufficiently outfitted as to clothes and footgear, and, if he had "aid to the wounded" materials he supplied them himself.

The wounded soldier in Europe is sent to a hospital as well equipped and organized as the finest of city hospitals. The field hospitals of our civil war were a scandal. The wounds made by modern rifles are wounds that as a rule quickly heal, being small and clean. The wounds made by the older weapons shattered bones and tore flesh. The prisoners of today are sent to clean and sanitary prisons. They are well fed and amply sheltered. The prisoners of the sixties were herded in such pens as Andersonville and Camp Douglas, where disease and ill-treatment slew them by hundreds.

For size and for the destructiveness of the weapons used, the world has seen no war so terrible as that going on in Europe. But in point of the misery which the common soldier is called upon to endure, this European war is a child's game compared with the war fought by the men in blue and gray.

PRAISE FOR MR. BITTLER.

(Anderson Bulletin.)

George A. Bittler, of Fort Wayne, democratic nominee for state treasurer, has been complimented very highly in a report made to Governor Ralston by J. E. Reed, republican, and L. H. Arnold, democrat, who have just completed an examination of the department of the state accounting board.

Mr. Bittler was appointed one of the chief deputy accountants by Thomas R. Marshall during his administration as governor, nearly four years ago. He has devoted himself very closely to the minute work of the accounting board. During the last two or three years he has had charge of the settlement department and has handled it in such a way that a great deal of the trouble that was experienced during the first two years of the operation of the law has been eliminated. Mr. Bittler is a great success—a financial expert.

CHALONS-SUR-MARNE—Chief city of the department of Marne and headquarters for a French army corps. City of 30,000 and important center of champagne trade. Annual Popularity Contest On Romp Day.

Marcella Druhot, 457 East DeWald; Evelyn Pfeiffer, 820 Columbia; Mildred Dell, 2202 Hanna; Violet Schaffer, 432 East Jefferson; Olive Babcock, 1213 Barr; Ruth Keller, 1220 Maumee, and Zona Daniels, Antwerp, Ohio, now visiting at 1208 East Washington, are the seven young girls who will wear their prettiest lawns and their sweetest smiles at Robison park on Romp Day. They are the seven candidates in the annual Popularity Contest. Every man, woman, girl and boy present on Romp Day may express his or her preference by voting for their particular favorite. The girls will be in the exhibition building from 2 to 4 p. m. and will be designated by numbers. Votes will be cast for the number only. The young miss receiving the greatest number of votes will receive the first choice of prizes. The one receiving the second greatest number will receive second choice and so on. There are seven prizes—one for each candidate. The prizes include one diamond ring, one gold bracelet set with diamond chips, one plain gold bracelet and four solid gold rings set with jewels. The young misses, with the exception of little Miss Daniels, are among the most popular girls in the various schools in Fort Wayne and each one has hundreds of friends. Little Zona was asked to be a candidate in the Popularity Contest because she is a guest in Fort Wayne and a very beautiful little girl. The voting is free and the only object of the Popularity Contest is that these seven charming girls may be honored and made happy.

RECALL AN OLD ROMAN PROVERB

Rome, Aug. 28.—The old Roman proverb that the man entering the conclave expecting to be pope always leaves as a cardinal, is being recalled as the college of cardinals assembles to choose a successor to the late Pius X.

The patriarch of Venice himself neither sought nor expected the election in 1903, and his successor may quite as likely be found outside those who have been most talked of as the next pope.

That he will be an Italian has been regarded as almost a certainty, for the state of affairs throughout Europe is said to make it more desirable than ever that the church should not depart from its traditions. But there is, from the American side, a possibility that the tradition might still be maintained and at the same time an American citizen be elevated to St. Peter's throne. This would be in case of the election of Diomede Falconio, Italian by birth, who was for many years a missionary in America and then papal delegate to the United States, and who became a naturalized American citizen during his residence abroad.

Cardinal Falconio is, however, only one of several logical candidates and only one of many possibilities.

There is little doubt if any authorization for speculating on the chances of the many candidates. Following are some of the names that have been mentioned, with brief biographical data:

Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, the dean of the sacred college, was born a year earlier than the late pope, but at 80 he is still young in years in comparison with a number of his colleagues. In reality, however, he has aged greatly since 1903, when he was talked of as a successof Pope Leo XIII. Today he is almost blind, stone deaf and in such a low state of health generally that he has been less seriously discussed at the present time.

The Vannutelli family is the only one which has two members in the cardinalate, Vincent Vannutelli, a brother of the dean, is quite as prominent. Under Pius X he held the prefecture of the apostolic signature, which is "the court of last appeal" in all questions relating to marriage under the Catholic laws. He is now 78 years old and doubtless he is well remembered in the United States, where he was greeted by thousands of Catholics in many cities during his tour of that country in 1910. On this tour he delivered an address at the consecration of St. Patrick's cathedral in New York.

Cardinal Martinelli is even better known in the United States, where he was papal delegate from 1896 to 1902, previous to the service of Cardinal Falconio, at Washington. He is 66 years old and under Piux X he was prefect of the congregation of rites.

Cardinal Agliardi, the sub-dean of the sacred college, is the eldest among those who have been mentioned as possibilities. He is now in his eighty-third year, so that consideration of his name could not be taken seriously without involving the danger of a short pontificate.

Cardinal Gotti, who is also a year older than was the late pope, was one of those prominently mentioned as a successor to Leo XIII, when it was urged both for him and against him that he was a strict conservative churchman, said to be opposed to liberal views as exemplified in America. He is the son of a dock laborer in Genoa. Under Pius X he was prefect of the congregation for the propagation of faith, a most influential position in earlier days, but less important since the strictly missionary lands have become less numerous.

Cardinal Gasparri has been held in high regard for his learning. He is the most eminent of the church canonists, having lately completed the codification of the canon law of the church, an orderly arrangement of the entire body of laws. If elected it is said he would be another Leo XIII.

Cardinal Maffi, the archbishop of Pisa, was once a newspaper man. He is a noted astronomer and has written many volumes on the subject. He is a native of Corteolona and is in his fifty-sixth year. Pius X frequently invited him to Rome to remain in an official capacity, but the people of Pisa begged him to stay with them and he heeded their plea.

Cardinal Ferrata, secretary of the congregation of the holy office, is in high favor among the theologians. It has been said he would be the nearest possible duplication of the late pontiff. He is in his sixty-sixth year and one of the few surviving members of the college raised to the cardinalate by Leo XIII.

MUNDAY ASSERTS HIS INNOCENCE

Three Indicted in Chicago Bank-Wrecking Investigation.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Criminal prosecution was started yesterday against three officials of the La Salle Street National bank the Lorimer-Munday institution, which was the predecessor of the defunct La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank.

The indictments were returned by the federal grand jury in open court before Judge Geiger. They charge misapplication of the bank's moneys and the making of false entries, in violation of the national banking act.

Those named in the indictments were: CHARLES B. MUNDAY, vice president of the bank. Charged in fifteen counts with having made false entries and in fourteen counts with misapplication of funds.

CHARLES G. FOX, cashier of the old national bank and vice president of the now closed state bank, charged in fifteen counts with having made false entries.

THOMAS M'DONALD, auditor of the national bank and cashier of its successor, charged in fifteen counts with having made false entries.

Quick Action Required.

The indictments cover alleged illegal acts against which the statute of limitations would have operated within a few days. As regards the false entry charges, the statute would have run today, and in the matter of the misapplication charges, the time limit would have expired between Sept. 2 and 13.

The true bills are rumored to be but the forerunner of the big indictments as regards the old national bank. These indictments, it is reported, may not be returned for two weeks. It is expected that they will name not only Munday but William Lorimer, H. W. Huttig and J. P. Gallagher. Further true bills are being drawn, it is said, by John Byrne, the government indictment expert, and Assistant District Attorney Joseph B. Fleming.

Plan to Get Bonds.

An agreement was reached between District Attorney Wilkerson and Colonel Milton J. Foreman, representing the defendants, that bonds should be fixed when Judge Carpenter returns next week from Minnesota. Mr. Foreman says that the defendants plan to give personal assurance that his clients would appear when wanted. For that reason they were not arrested.

In the indictments returned yesterday Munday appears as the real culprit. Fox and McDonald are charged with having falsified the bank's records knowingly in order to conceal the alleged operations of their chief.

False Entry Charges.

It is charged that on Aug. 28, 1911, the bank's books showed a balance of $303,372.27, while the real amount of cash was $193,372.27. Munday is held responsible for this record.

The misapplication charges are based upon the allegation that promissory notes of C. B. Munday & Co., a copartnership composed of C. B. Munday and J. G. Munday were discounted by the bank through Munday without sanction of the bank's officers. It is charged C. B. Munday knew the notes were worthless. It is alleged: "The amounts were wholly lost to the bank."

The notes bearing dates of maturity from thirty to sixty days after dates in September, 1911, were carried in the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank at the time of its collapse. These notes were for a total of $35,000, and were said to be the first transactions whereby money was taken from the bank and given to the concerns controlled by C. B. Munday. Between September, 1911, and June, 1912, the amount is said to have increased to more than $500,000.

The punishment for a violation of the national banking laws is a penitentiary sentence of from five to ten years on each count.

Munday Claims Innocence.

C. B. Munday issued a statement following the return of the indictments. He said:

"All I care to say is that I hope the public will not form an opinion hastily, but rather will wait until I have had an opportunity to present my defense. I am positive that when this case comes to trial, if it ever does, the charges against me will be comparatively disproved."

WHAT "CLOSE FORMATION" DID.

Antwerp, Aug. 28.—A Belgian lancer telling of one of the fights in which German infantry were sent against the deadly Liege forts in the amazing "close formation" of the first Napoleonic days, said: "It was tragic the way those poor fellows were driven up to the guns of the forts. They came in massed formation. They stood with about fifteen paces between ranks—a solid mass which even a woman might have hit. We simply couldn't miss them. Our great guns cut long avenues in their ranks. Before our infantry had begun to fire many of them had fallen in masses in the fields. I do not believe that anyone realizes what the spectacle was like. Our men charged repeatedly with fixed bayonets. They did not care. They saw red. Nothing seemed to stop them. Every time they charged the German troops turned and ran. They were struck in the back and killed like cattle. It was horrible. Then the cavalry charged them.

Washington, Aug. 28.—There are strange doings these days in diplomatic circles. People who have wined and dined and played tennis together pass with a stony stare. They must. The countries they represent are at war and diplomatic regulations require that ambassadors representing hostile countries shall cease to hold any sort of communication with one another.

This regulation is strictly interpreted and rigidly enforced. It means that the German ambassador and the French ambassador do not know each other when they pass on the street. If by accident they should meet at any social affair, they would meet as entire strangers acknowledging introductions, but immediately separating without even a comment on the weather. It means also that the wives who have been entertaining one another at teas and meeting continually at all kinds of social affairs cease to meet and cease to hold any sort of communication. They may not telephone to one another. If there are any social engagements pending they are cancelled.

The German ambassador, Count J. H. von Bernstorff, has been away from Washington and is now in New York, where he is diligently giving out interviews. This is most unusual, but it is known that he is acting under orders from Berlin, where it is felt that something must be done to correct an unfavorable public opinion in the United States held by people who have thought the present war to be the result of the kaiser's activity. Count von Bernstorff is insisting that Russia made the initial move by mobilizing her troops.

Ambassador Jusserand, of France, has observed the usual diplomatic good form in refraining from any comment on the war. He and Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice have just arrived in Washington. They are diplomatically and personally good friends. The British ambassador came on the American liner, St. Paul, incognito. The Russian ambassador is not in Washington, the Bakhmeteffs being at Newport, where, as usual, the embassy is maintained during the summer months.

The Russian ambassador's wife is a sister of John R. McLean, proprietor of the Washington Post. She and the family of the German ambassador have always been on intimate terms and the sudden change in their social relations is an indication of the unusual results which may follow a strict application of old-world diplomatic ettiquet.

Viscount Sutemi Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, has been in the city with a considerable force of clerk and has been quite frank in discussing the attitude of Japan toward Germany. The Japanese are squaring an old account laid up at the time Germany prevented Japan reaping the fruits of their victory over China in 1895.

The Austria-Hungary ambassador, Dr. Constantin T. Dumba, avoids the social complications at Washington by remaining at Manchester, Mass. All important business of the embassy is conducted there, but diplomatic requirements make it necessary for the clerks who are left in Washington to cease communication with any of the embassies representing hostile countries. The same rule which requires ambassadors' wives to refrain from meeting the wives of ambassadors representing warring countries is carried out by subordinates in the embassies. Counselors, attaches, secretaries and messengers all become strangers to the persons holding similar positions in the embassies representing the enemy.

It is notable that there is no representative in Washington of Servia, one of the warring nations and one of the important nations in the present situation. Servia has not been permitted by Austria-Hungary to enjoy this incident of sovereignty. To maintain an ambassador in foreign courts is the test of national sovereignty and while there are representatives in Washington of Siam, Paraguay, Panama and Haiti it has irked Servia and the Balkan nations that they should be denied existence as independent and sovereign entities. The overbearing attitude of Austria-Hungary towards Servia and the continuous impositions on Servia, culminating in the demand that certain propaganda against Austria be discontinued, proved to be the immediate cause for the explosion in the war arsenal of Europe. No doubt the Servians anticipate that one result of the war will be the recognition of Servia as a nation entitled to its own ambassador at the courts of other nations.

Favorite Remedy for Diarrhoea.

"About three years ago I had a serious attack of summer complaint. The doctor's medicine failed to benefit me, so I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy upon the recommendation of one of my neighbors. One dose of it did me more good than all the other medicine I had used. I improved rapidly and in a short time I was well," writes Mrs. May Higgins, Peru, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

We never believed in the boycott, but the appeal of the Providence, R. I., Housewives' League, to all Americans to join a general movement against dealers inclined to force high prices for foodstuffs, should meet with the approval of every fair minded citizen. This appeal should also mention that no food can be bought at such reasonable prices as Geller's delicious bread, rolls and coffee-cakes. 26-28

JOFFRE MAN OF HOUR IN FRANCE

Commander-in-Chief of the French Army Interesting Figure.

Paris, Aug. 28.—The man of the hour in France is Gen. J. J. C. Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French armies.

The French idolize the dashing type of general—the slim fellow, with pointed mustache and eagle eye—the beau ideal like General Beauregard, of the American confederate army.

Joffre is none such. He's rather stocky and heavy of jaw. He looks more like an English or American officer. And the French are cottoning to him, because, they say, he's solid, he's not impulsive, he won't throw away the armies of that dear France.

Joffre is credited with being an organizer of victory. He does not believe in flashes of genius. He knows that long and careful preparation is necessary.

He has been at the head of the army for three years. Never for a single waking hour in those three years has he forgotten the purpose for which he was appointed —to prepare for the struggle in which France is engaged today.

If a month or two ago you had gone to see him at his home in Paris you would have found a stout man, heavily built, apparently living the ordinary life of a professional Parisian with his wife and daughters. His is a pleasant, airy house. If you were asked whether anything about it made a particular impression upon you, you would probably say, "Yes, its restfulness." Gen. Joffre is a restful man. His wide brow, under close-cropped white hair, is tranquil. His blue eyes are calm and clear. Beneath a heavy, white mustache his lips are firm; they show his teeth a little when he talks.

He does not talk much. What he says is pithy and to the point, the result of quiet reflection and study, expressed in quiet, straightforward sentences. A man of gentle, kindly manners, slow-moving, contemplative. That is Gen. Joffre at home.

In the field, as in his office at the ministry of war, he is another man, a "man as hard as nails." He gives orders and expects them to be carried out exactly; if they are not there is trouble. He may sympathize with the incompetent, but he can not overlook failure. After the maneuvers of last year he dismissed five generals. France, which had known little of this masterful chief of the general staff before, suddenly became aware that its armies were being reorganized by an exceptional man.

When war was declared in 1870 he had scarcely finished one year at the Polytechnique, which is the French West Point. At 18, therefore, he was given his commission, and as an artillery subaltern took part in the defense of Paris during the siege.

He attracted attention; he was employed in the reconstructing of the Paris fortifications. The forts at Enghein were of his designing, and one day Marshal MacMahon, after inspecting his work, put a hand upon his shoulder and said, "I congratulate you, Captain Joffre."

Captain at 22!

A few years later he went out to command troops in the field. He was victorious in Tonkin (French Indo-China). After this he won distinction in Formosa, in Madagascar, in Dahomey, and then in Timbuctoo, whither he led the remains of the broken column of Colonel Bonnier after he had put new spirit into the men.

By seizing every chance of foreign service, he learned his profession in the field.

Then, in the middle nineties, he came back to France and went steadily upwards, working hard all the time, until he was in 1911 asked to take the chief command.

Joffre maintains that the warlike genius of the French is as strong as ever, that modern luxury has not weakened the dash and vigor of the French soldier.

Sleeveless Gowns Require Hairless Arms

Fashion says sleeveless, low-necked gowns for this season. This means hairless arms and neck. If you do not want to be humiliated, Meyer Bros. Co. says that the safest, best and quickest way to be absolutely free from all trace of superfluous hair is to use the famous medical prescription known as Mrs. Osgood's Wonder for Superfluous Hair.

It is delightful to use and absolutely harmless. A single application makes hair on face, neck, arms, hands or any other part of the body quickly disappear.

The cost is small and Meyer Bros. Co. will supply you, or in fact, any up-to-date druggist or department store, on a Money-Back guarantee basis.

Paris, Aug. 28.—The spy mania is rampant. It is said that numbers have been shot for attempting to give information to the enemy. There is talk of a wireless installation on the top of a fashionable hotel in the Champs Elysees. CANAL DOESN'T PAY EXPENSES

European War Holds Down Receipts of Big Ditch to Small Figure.

Washington, Aug. 28.—As a direct result of war in France, receipts from the operation of the Panama canal have failed to pay the expenses of the great waterway. Tolls during the first week of traffic in the canal amounted to only about $15,000. That was not enough to pay operating expenses, much less meet the interest payment on the vast capital invested. Prof. Emory Johnson estimated that the receipts from tolls at the end of the first two years would be about twenty-four or twenty-five million dollars. Canal officials, however, are confident there will be a big increase in business as soon as the trade routes are re-established and interference with commerce disappears through some decisive victory in the war. Also it is anticipated that a great fleet of vessels under American and other neutral flags will soon me plying through the waterway to handle the west coast trade of South Africa, so that the balance will soon be on the right side of the canal's ledger.

DEATH BUT A FEW HOURS AWAY.

Miss Beatrice Rhine Is Slowly Sinking at the St. Joseph Hospital.

Reports received late Friday afternoon from the St. Joseph hospital are to the effect that Miss Beatrice Rhine, who drank some spirits of ammonia Wednesday afternoon with suicidal intent, is slowly sinking and that death will only be the question of a few hours.

Thursday morning she seemed to rally but in the afternoon her condition became worse and has continued to do so until now all hope has been given up. It is thought that her mind was slightly affected, caused by overexertion in the heat of the sun, when she tried to commit suicide.

POVERTY IS PLEA OF WABASH ROAD

Poverty was the plea of the Wabash railroad through its officials who met Friday afternoon in conference with Mayor Hosey, Members Singrey, Kelly and Hilgeman, of the board of works, City Attorney Colerick and City Engineer Randall to discuss completion of track elevation at Taylor street and Thompson avenue. Chief Engineer A. C. Cunningham, Division Engineer W. S. Danes and Attorney Fred Zollars represented the railroad in the conference.

The city officials went into the conference prepared to stand pat on the board of works' resolution of August 18, amending track elevation resolutions No. 5 and No. 8, giving the Wabash twenty days from that date to inaugurate permanent work at the two streets, where unfinished work has been lying for two years.

Engineer Cunningham argued for more time, citing the financial condition of the Wabash, the difficulties of the receivership and the state of the money market due to the European war, which made it for the present impossible for railroads to secure money.

It was stated by a member of the board before the meeting that the city would stand pat and if the Wabash did not begin work by the date fixed the city would proceed with it.

General Superintendent S. E. Cotter and Acting Superintendent E. A. Sollitt were in the city Friday but were not present at the conference.

Agreement is Reached.

After an hour's discussion an agreement finally was reached by which the Wabash will put in the north center and south columns for the Taylor street and Thompson avenue bridges, which will permit the roadway to be cleaned up and made passable, and next year put in the abutments and complete the work.

NEW QUESTION IS RAISED.

How Will Cost Operating Lakeside Sewer Pumps Be Paid?

In connection with other questions relating to the installation of sewer pumps to relieve Lakeside during high water the matter of paying the cost of operation has come up for consideration. Mayor Hosey calls attention to the fact that the city light and power department is prevented by the public utility act of Indiana from furnishing electric current to operate the pumps without making a charge for it according to the city schedules in force. The installation of the pumps is a matter of local improvement for which the Lakeside and Forest Park districts will be assessed and the position is taken that their operation, being only of benefit to that district, should be paid for by all beneficiaries. Just how an assessment for this purpose will be worked is not yet decided, but the mayor thinks that it will involve some sort of convenant that will cover the property in the district.

The board of works will doubtless soon take steps to condemn the three lots needed for a pump site at the end of the new short sewer that is to connect the Tecumseh and Morton street main sewers with the pumps. They are owned by James S. Peddicord, who wants $400 each for them together with interest at 6 per cent. annually on the sum of $1,200 during the time he has owned the lots. Mayor Hosey and the board take the view that as Mr. Peddicord owns a considerable number of other low-lying lots that will be directly benefitted by the pumps, his benefits and damages for the property to be taken should be adjusted so as to permit the city to acquire the three lots without cost. Mr. Peddicord's figures are held to be exhorbitant by the property owners who will be assessed. Councilman Jacob Agne of the First ward, conferred with the board Thursday evening and asked that steps be taken at once to condemn the lots required.

PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST.

Remonstrance Stops Proposed Opening of Spring Street from Short West.

Because forty-one property owners object to their assessments for the proposed opening of Spring street, from Short west, the board of works has rescinded all action on that improvement. The opening is regarded by the board as a necessary improvement, but the remonstrance is sufficient to defeat the project.

It was necessary to decide by lot for the award of three contracts of the nine for which bids on sidewalk construction were received. The Indiana Engineering and Construction company and the Grosjean Brothers submitted the same figures on three and a coin was tossed to decide. The Indiana company won two and the Grosjeans one. Contracts were awarded as follows:

Walks on Ruth street, from Spy Run avenue to a point 337 feet west; Grosjean, 64 cents per lineal foot.

Grading roadway and walks on both sides of Hillside avenue, Delaware to Forest; Grosjean, 40 cents per lineal foot for grading and 85 cents per lineal foot for sidewalks.

Walks on both sides of Monroe street, from Washington to Madison; Indiana Engineering and Construction company, 65 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on north side of Erie street, Harmer to Begue; Indiana Engineering and Construction company, 66 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on south side of Baker street, Calhoun to Harrison; Grosjean, $1.07½ per lineal foot.

Walks on the east side of Fulton street, Berry to the alley south; Grosjean, 69 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on the east side of Webster street, Packard to Darrow; Indiana Engineering and Construction company, 73 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on the north side of Leith street, Hanna to the first alley west; Grosjean, 67 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on both sides of Maumee avenue, Harmer to Hanover; Indiana Engineering and Construction company, 81 cents per lineal foot for six-foot walks and 67 cents per lineal foot for five-foot walks.

For paving alleys the Moellering Construction company was awarded the following contracts: Alley between Calhoun and Harrison streets, Baker to the alley south, and the alley south of Baker, Calhoun to alley west, at his bid of $2.20 per lineal foot for Metropolitan block. The same company will pave the alley between Madison and Lewis streets, Lafayette to Clay, at $2.36 per lineal foot for Metropolitan block.

Bids on two other alley contracts were taken under advisement by the board to determine some points involved.

The Indiana ngIEneering & Construction company submitted bids for concrete on all four jobs, though there was no provision in the specifications for such material.

The board confirmed assessment rolls for the following improvements: For the widening of State boulevard, on the north side from St. Joe river to St. Joe boulevard and on the south side from the river to Parnell avenue; for the vacation of Darrow avenue from Calhoun street to the alley west; paving Francis street, Erie to Hayden; paving Killea avenue, Calhoun to Hoagland, and the construction of a sewer west of Pipha avenue. Primary assessment rolls were approved for the Bloomingdale brick sewer; paving Sherman street, High to Archer, and paving Eliza street, Gay to Winter.

Specifications were approved and resolutions were adopted for walks on both sides of Hurd street, Gay to Thomas; north side of St. Martin street, Lafayette to Hanna; grading roadway and walks on both sides of Webster street, Darrow to Rudisill; walks on south side of French avenue, Webster to Fairfield; walks on both side of Dayton avenue, Beaver to Broadway; walks on south side of Packard avenue, Indiana to South Wayne, and walks on both sides of same street, Indiana to Beaver; walks on both sides of on north side of Melita, Harrison to Fox avenue, Creighton to Home; walks Webster; grading roadway and walks on Wheeler street, Runnion to G. R. & I. tracks; grading Schilling avenue and walks on both sides of Schilling avenue, High to Sinclair; walks on west side of Dearborn street, Columbia to alley north; walks on west side of Parnell avenue, State boulevard to Charlotte.

Petitions were received asking the paving of the first alley west of Calhoun street, Wayne to the alley south; grading of roadway and walks on both sides of Gumpper avenue, Webster to Calhoun; grading of roadway and walks on both sides of Webster street, Darrow to Rudisill, and paving of Savilla avenue, Indiana to Broadway. Plans were ordered for the first three improvements.

WANT TO CHANGE BRICK.

The Moellering and Brooks Construction companies, both of which have just received awards for constucting brick street pavements, have asked the board of works to make the awards for Metropolitan block instead of Puritan block. The latter product is a trifle lower, but the contractors are advised that shipments cannot be made for two months, whereas they want the material immediately. The change will be made.

SCHOOLMATE VISITS MAYOR.

During the past two days Mayor W. J. Hosey has greatly enjoyed a visit from Patrick Purcell, of Mt. Vernon, O., who forty years and more ago was the mayor's schoolmate in the Ohio city. Mayor Hosey was born in Mt. Vernon but came to Fort Wayne when young, and he had not seen Mr. Purcell for forty years. Mr. Purcell is an officer of the juvenile court in Knox county, Ohio, and came to Fort Wayne to study the operation of the juvenile court of this county. He has returned to his home.

AVIATOR WRITES MAYOR.

J. H. Berger wired Mayor Hosey from a Pennsylvania town to know if Fort Wayne had ever seen an aeroplane flap its wings and fly, and wanting advice on the outlook for an exhibition in Fort Wayne Labor day. The mayor directed that the inquirer be answered to the effect that Fort Wayne had seen flying machines of all sorts and that the city boasted of a bird-man of its own who can do anything anybody else can with an aeroplane.

KAISER DIRECTS PRUSSIAN RELIEF

London, Aug. 28.—5:50 p. m.—A Berlin dispatch sent by the Wolff bureau and reaching here by way of Rotterdam, says that Emperor William has directed the following telegram to his ministry:

"Main headquarters, August 27. The trials to which my loyal province of east Prussia is subjected by the invasion of Russians fills me with the greatest compassion but I know the courage of my East Prussians too well to know that they are ever ready to offer themselves on the altar of the fatherland and will readily give their blood and wealth for the sake of their country and manfully bear the hardships of war.

"Confidence in the irresistable might of our heroic army and unshakeable belief in the help of a living God together with the consciousness that we are fighting for a worthy cause, should give us faith in an early delivery of Germany from its enemies.

"I wish that everything possible shall be done by the German people for those East Prussians who are obliged to leave their homes. With this in view I charge my ministry and the various state authorities to assist in the work of relief. Take thorough measures for this purpose and report to me what has been done.

"WILLIAM, Rex."

WOMEN TO MARCH IN PEACE PARADE

New York, Aug. 28.—Thousands of women, recruited from all classes and representing many nations, all clad in somber black or white, with mourning bands around their arms, will march tomorrow afternoon down Fifth avenue in what is said to be the first "peace parade" ever held in this country, to voice a protest against war.

Just how many women will be in the "peace parade," not even the members of the Woman Peace Parade committee would hazard a guess today, but from the responses that have poured in to the committee it is certain the parade will include in its ranks many thousands. In the line will be women whose names stand high in the social registers and women whose days are spent in bread winning.

There will be delegations from hospitals, from the churches of all denominations, from the settlements of all races and from women's organizations. President Wilson commended the idea, and daily letters from pastors of churches are being received praising it.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

TRAFFIC IS INCREASING

Movement of Hay Heaviest in the History of the Railroads.

"Business on the road is improving and the outlook is for a good movement of freight over our line in the near future," said Division Freight Agent E. T. Wood, of the Pennsylvania, just before he left for Pittsburg last night. "The hay crop in this territory is excellent and the shipments of this farm product is the heaviest in the history of the road," continued Mr. Wood. "We expect a heavy business later in the season and are getting in shape to handle it," he said.

STARTED UP ANOTHER HAMMER.

The receipt of a number of orders for forging at the Bass blacksmith shop within the past three or four days has been followed by putting two instead of one of the big hammers on full time. One of the orders calls for a steel bar with a broadened head on one end and a screw thread on the other for lock purposes. These bars range in length from nine to twenty feet, the largest weighing 2,800 pounds each. Another order is for a number of dynamo journals and it calls for upwards of sixty. Of course the shop has other work, but not enough to keep all the hammers going and the recent orders came at an opportune moment.

USED IT FOR NIGHT GOWN.

Yesterday's mail brought to a Fort Wayne man a card from one of the Pennsylvania company general officers, who is at Mackinac Island, which read as follows: "This place reminds me of the day I was in Fort Wayne. I have worn my overcoat every night for the past week." "I presume he forgot to pack his nightgown when he was getting ready for the trip," said the recipient of the card, "and the nights being chilly, he slept in his overcoat."

SICK NEARLY A YEAR.

Ernest Geerken, Pennsylvania shopman, of 213 Pontiac street, was taken sick September 1, 1913, and has been unable to work since. He is still in bad physical condition, but is improving and was down town yesterday for the first time in several weeks. Mr. Geerken has been employed at the shops and offices thirty-four years, a portion of the time as janitor in the motive power offices.

WILL GOUTY TO VISIT HERE.

Will Gouty, who was prominently engaged in bicycle business in Fort Wayne ten or twelve years ago, will arrive from Los Angeles tomorrow to visit his brother, Machinist Clayton Gouty, of the Pennsylvania shops. Will Gouty has been in the automobile business in Los Angeles ever since he left Fort Wayne, about ten years ago.

ATTENDING A MEETING OF AGENTS.

E. T. Wood, division freight agent of the Pennsylvania, left last night for Pittsburg, where he is attending a meeting of division freight agents of the lines west of Pittsburg. There are twenty-five of these officers and most of them are at the meeting.

TURNED OUT NINE ENGINES.

Today ends the week's output at the Pennsylvania erecting shop and during it nine engines were given heavy repairs and turned over to the operating department for service. They were Nos. 9084, 7737, 7445, 9076, 7192, 7744, 7175, 9927 and 7352.

The demonstrating automobile fitted up for advertising purposes by the Wayne Oil Tank company has reached Pennsylvania on its way to the Atlantic coast cities including New York. The car started on the trip July 1. After the eastern trip it will go over the proposed Lincoln highway to the Pacific coast. Its wonderful factor is the sale of garage equipment.

On a tour of 3,500 miles traveled by Mayor James H. Preston and party, of Baltimore, recently made in the interest of the coming National Star-Spangled Banner Centennial, the efficiency of American railroad service was shown by the fact that the entire journey was made on schedule time. The party traveled in a special car on regular trains, visited twenty-two cities in sixteen states of the central west and south and used twelve different railroads.

Telegraph operators employed by the Southern Pacific system are taking a vote on authorizing a strike to enforce their demands for increases in pay and changes in working conditions on the lines east of El Paso, to correspond with those provided in a contract for the lines west of El Paso which went into effect on Sept. 1 last year. The men ask an increase of 12½ per cent. in rates, increased pay for overtime and $5 a month extra for operators who are station agents and also perform certain other duties.

KAISER CAST OFF BRITISH TITLES

German Emperor Renounced Honors as War Break Developed.

London, Aug. 28.—That the German emperor renounced his British titles when the rupture of the nations occurred, is confirmed in the official account of the final dealings of the British ambassador, Sir William Edward Goschen, with the German government, published last night. High tribute is paid the American minister at Berlin, James W. Gerard.

The morning after war was declared the emperor's aide brought to the British ambassador this message:

"The emperor has charged me to express to your excellency his regret for the occurrences of last night, but to tell you at the same time that you will gather from the occurrences an idea of the feelings of his people respecting the action of Great Britain in joining with other nations against her old allies of Waterloo.

"His majesty also begs that you will tell the king that he has been proud of [illegible]

The regret expressed was over the mobbing of the British embassy.

Referring to Ambassador Gerard, the British ambassador reports:

"I should also like to mention the great assistance rendered to us all by my American colleagues, Mr. Gerard and his staff. Undeterred by the hooting and hissing with which he was often greeted by the mob on entering and leaving the embassy, his excellency came repeatedly to see me to ask how he could help us and to make arrangements for the safety of stranded British subjects.

"We extricated many of these from extremely difficult situations at some personal risk to himself. His calmness and savoirfaire and his firmness in dealing with the imperial authorities gave full assurance that the protection of British subjects and interests could not have been left in more efficient and able hands."

NEGRO IS BOUND OVER.

Colored Slayer of Love Cottage Inmates Held For Murder.

Dodgeville, Wis., Aug. 28.—Julian Carleton, the negro servant who killed seven occupants of Frank Lloyd Wright's "love cottage" at Spring Green, today was bound over to the circuit court for trial next month at Lancaster.

Carleton's victims included Mrs. Mamah Borthwick, who was installed by Wright as mistress of the "love cottage," her two children and four employes.

FRANCE DOES NOT LIKE PLAN

Opposes American Purchase of Foreign Ships for Merchant Marine.

Washington, Aug. 28.—France has expressed to the United States her disapproval of certain phases of the administration's plan to build up a merchant marine through the purchase of foreign ships.

Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador, had a long talk with President Wilson yesterday and indicated, it is understood, that the French government would view with displeasure the purchase by the United States of any German-owned ships.

The discussion is not yet terminated, it being the intention of the French government further to press its objections to the plan. The viewpoint of France is that vast sums of money would be made available for the use of the Germans through the sale of ships which are now marooned in neutral ports. The French contend, moreover, that as the allies have swept German commerce off the seas, the American government would be giving resources for food supply to Germany which she otherwise would not [illegible] permitted to neutrals as articles of commerce. If the establishment of the government shipping, however, enabled Germany to feed not only her people but her troops in the field, France holds such an operation would be in violation of neutrality.

Aside from the question of contraband the French government thinks that the marooned German vessels if sold to this country would be tantamount to raising money through the agency of the United States. After his visit to the white house, Ambassador Jusserand conferred with officials of the state department and called on Secretary Daniels, of the navy department.

JAPANESE DWARF TREE.

Is 76 Years Old and But 12 Inches High —On Display at Rurode's Show-Window.

This Orinetal dwarf tree was imported direct from Japan by Will H. Noll just recently, and is the first of its kind in Fort Wayne. The rugged, gnarled and twisted appearance of its trunk and long extending branches, which are produced by a secret stunting process known only to the Japanese, is really interesting and should be seen. These picturesque branching trees are to be seen in nearly all Japanese gardens and are called "Enko" trees, derived from the name of a long armed monkey. Often the branches extend out from the trunk 25 feet and the tree itself has been known to reach the age of 300 years. August number of Vogue devotes 3 full pages to Japanese Dwarf Trees and their effect in producing miniature gardens.

All foreign [illegible] are subject [illegible]

Wayne, last week, to inspect this tree, he fully expected to see a tree a least 5 to 10 feet high. The joke was such a good one that he had a snap shot of it taken in order to show his chief.

TAWDRY GLITTER FASCINATES HIM

When Frank Sullivan gets his hide steeped in booze the tawdry glitter of cheap jewelry exercises a peculiar fascination upon him and he falls. Thursday afternoon he was arrested by Officer Majors for stealing two stick pins, worth a dime each, from the Independent 5 and 10 cent store, on Calhoun street. He pleaded guilty Friday morning and took $10 and costs and twenty days in jail for the offense. A few months ago Sullivan was arrested and convicted for the same offense in the same store and served thirty days for it. He says that at long intervals he resorts to whisky for a stomach trouble and that when he drinks he cannot resist the temptation to hook things that are bright and shining. Sullivan works in a down town hotel as part of the kitchen staff.

Bike Thief a Doper.

James Freeman, aged 20, pleaded guilty to stealing a bicycle from the Foster Furniture company and was given $10 and costs and thirty days on a charge of petit larceny. The stolen wheel was a new machine worth $40, but as a matter of leniency the owners of the wheel put the value at $24 that a charge of grand larceny might not be forced. Freeman was arrested in Toledo and brought back here. While he denied that he is a user of narcotic drugs, he bears every evidence of it.

Ertle Not Found Guilty.

"I'm not going to send you to jail this morning, because you've got a good wife and two little children at home. You've been contributing about $2 a week to the support of your family. That's shameful. You must do better than that." And with these words Judge Kerr entered an indefinite continuance in the case of Joe Ertle, charged with petit larceny. It wasn't much of a vindication, but it answered Joseph's purpose very well. He was accused of having stolen three chickens from Richard W. Potts, night watchman at the Bash Packing company's plant in the east end. Potts, with his wife and child, has a residence in the office of the plant. Ertle was seen Wednesday night with three chickens in a nearby saloon. His wife testified that she kept chickens and that Thursday morning three were missing.

Abating a Nuisance

[illegible] in jail, jail sentence suspended," was the announcement of Judge Kerr to Oscar Foster, a young man who, despite the infirmity of having only a wooden right leg and no right arm at all, has been in the city court twice within a few weeks for assault and battery. Esper Maloly was the complaining witness and the trouble grew out of the accusation that Foster had stolen hay from Maloly's stable. "He struck me with a club made of the butt of a whip and he kicked me with his wooden leg, but I knew it was against the law to touch a cripple so I didn't do anything, but I could have beaten him up," said Maloly, who doubtless could, for he is a big and husky man.

The case against Emil Altenau, a well known plasering contractor for disorderly conduct, was continued until next Wednesday after an attorney had entered a plea of not guilty and the testimony of three policemen had been taken. Traffic Officerd Hartzell testified that Altenau tried to drive his horse and wagon around the side of a car at the transfer corner and then tried to drive over him when he remonstrated and seized the horse by the bridle. Officers Boseker and Pattee had just dismounted from a car and seeing Officer Hartzell in trouble, went to his assistance. It was testified that Altenau tried to strike Hartzell with a piece of scantling and then menaced Officer Boseker with a heavy hitching weight. Force was necessary to overpower the man, who was taken to headquarters. He was said to have loudly cursed all the way over.

Other City Court Cases.

John Brown was the name given by a man from New Haven who came to the city, got drunk and made a nuisance of himself around the interurban station. He was allowed to go home.

Charles Beam said he had "stomach strokes" and not a souse at the west end of Berry street, where he was found on the sidewalk down and out. He was put under $25 bond to keep him in hand until Saturday. He was not entirely over the "stomach strokes" while in court.

Jeff Myers did not go to Roanoke as he promised a few days ago when in court on a drunk charge and said he could not remember how many times he had been arrested this year. My memory's about gone," he pleaded. He was sent over with $5 and costs atop of him.

Allen Stuart and Thomas Corman, two young fellows who were drunk and begging on the streets a few nights since, were turned loose when they allowed that thirty minutes apiece would get them each out of town.

Ed Miller, a Chicago traveling man, was hitched up to a disorderly souse at the Rich hotel early Friday morning and was pinched. He paid $1 and costs. Al Hoover, the [illegible] charged with [illegible] from the Wabash [illegible]

When All World Has Been at War.

THE CRUSADES (1096-1272)—Great military expeditions undertaken by the Christian nations of Europe to rescue the holy places of Palestine from the Mohammedans. They were eight in number.

THE THIRTY YEARS' WAR (1618-1648)—The Catholic princes of Germany finally were defeated by an alliance composed of the Protestant states and cities of the empire and France and Sweden. By the famous Peace of Westphalia, France got Metz, Toul and Verdun, in Lorraine, and a great part of Alsace.

THE WAR WITH HOLLAND (1672-1678)—Louis XIV. emerged from the struggle with Holland and her allies, England, Sweden and some of the German princes, with a large increase of territory.

THE WAR OF THE SPANISH SUCCESSION (1701-1712)—So-called because of the attempt to seat the grandson of Louis XIV., of France, on the throne of Spain. England got Gibraltar and the Island of Minorca, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and the Hudson Bay territory. Austria was given Milan, Naples, Sardinia and the Spanish Netherlands (Belgium).

THE SWEDISH WARS (1700-1721)—Sweden opposed Denmark, Saxony, Poland and Russia. Russia acquired all Sweden's Southern Baltic lands.

THE SEVEN YEARS' WAR (1756-1763)—Russia vacillated in this struggle, siding first with the allies, then with Prussia, and then with the allies. Prussia, practically alone, fought Austria-Hungary, France, Russia, Poland, Saxony and Sweden. England was a temporizing ally. Prussia became exalted as the foremost German state, shouldering aside Austria, and from thence on was a rallying point for the other German kingdoms and principalities.

WAR WITH FRANCE (1793)—England and her allies of the Grand Alli[illegible] and defeated by the French.

NAPOLEONIC WARS (1798-1815)—Napoleon brought [illegible] sia and their smaller allies defeated him at Waterloo.

THE BALKAN-TURKEY WAR (1912-1913)—Bulgaria, Servia, Montenegro and Greece fought Turkey because of atrocities upon the Christian population within the Ottoman borders. Turkey was defeated, and would have lost all her European possessions except for the intervention of the powers.

THE BALKAN WAR (1913)—Greece, Servia and Montenegro fell upon their former ally, Bulgaria. Bulgaria was defeated and another adjustment of frontiers was made.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 30

A DAY OF QUESTIONS.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 22:15-22.

GOLDEN TEXT—"They say unto Him, Caesar's. Then said He unto them, render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." Matt. 22:21 R. V.

The title of this lesson suggests more than the portion of Scripture selected seems to warrant. We have seen in previous lessons how the Master condemned and denounced the rulers by his teaching in parables. This led the Pharisees to take counsel how they might ensnare him (v. 15). Three questions were asked, one political, one doctrinal and one ethical. Our next lesson deals with the third question.

Secret Methods.

I. The First Question, vv. 15-22. This parable of the wicked husbandman (ch. 21) seems to have been clearly understood by the Pharisees (v. 45). While it stung it did not bring them to repentance. The hardening effect of unaccepted truth is one of its most terrible results upon the human heart. The record tells us plainly (ch. 21:46) why these Pharisees were withheld from at once putting Jesus out of the way. They therefore resorted to secret methods and endeavored to bring him into conflict with the Roman government. The Pharisees entered into this plot to entangle Jesus with their most determined enemies, the Herodian party (Mark 12:13). It was a good scheme from their viewpoint to get Jesus to utter something treasonable and then to turn him over to Herod, who was a puppet of Rome. These Pharisees scorned to pay taxes to this same government with which they are now conniving. They began with words of smooth flattery (v. 16). The devil is never so subtile, so dangerous nor so malicious as when he flatters. Apart from Jesus each party would have given quite a different reply to this question. In fancy we can see them as they must have gloatingly exclaimed, "Now we will see him entrapped." If Jesus declared it illegal to pay tribute to Caesar they could at once formulate a charge of sedition against him. On the other hand, for him to declare it proper thus to pay tribute to a foreign government would seem to them for him to deny his messianic claim, according to their understanding of the messianic program. Calling for a Roman denarius, a legal taxpaying coin worth about 17 cents, he asked, "Whose is this image and superscription?" "Caesar's," they reply, and by those words they have caught themselves and not Jesus. His reply was, in effect, "Very well, you accept the money of Rome, you must by that act accept the responsibility which accompanies it." Jesus first of all denounces their hypocrisy and then exposes the folly of their question.

His Teaching Is Plain.

II. The Second Question, v. 23-33. The rationalistic Sadducees, who did not believe in the resurrection at all, now try to entrap Jesus by questioning him along the line of their particular doctrine. The teaching of Jesus is plain and unequivocal as to the resurrection of the body and the immortality of the soul. Jesus seems in this reply rather to ignore the first and to strike at the second, which is more fundamental. Their plan of attack was very scholarly and philosophical and was designed to show the absurdity of his teaching and thus by ridicule discredit his standing. It is always a favorite way for those who quibble to imagine a suppositious case and then to put a subtile question. In this case our Lord, by one sentence demolished their well-planned attack. "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God."

The Teaching. Jesus here shows us the true relation of himself and of his people to political questions. He recognizes the authority of human government and it is his will that his followers shall enjoy the liberties or privileges which that government has to offer; at the same time they are to submit themselves to its requirements under one clearly stated condition, viz., God's supreme will. In so far as the laws of the state are just and true and in harmony with the law of God it is the duty of Christian people to support and to obey them. Jesus would ally himself with neither party, thereby avoiding complicity with any measure of evil. We may likewise maintain a similar relationship with God and speak with authority in the correction of abuses, and in the direction of civic and national life.

We have purposely included the second question inasmuch as the next lesson concerns the third of this group, which ought to be studied as a whole. Jesus was ever ready to meet any question. He never equivocated, but lifts his answer out of the realm of the controversial into that of abiding principles. Jesus denounced the hypocrisy of his assailants, condemned their ignorance of the law they so loudly professed to obey and proclaimed at the same time the immortality of the soul and the resurrection of the body. He emphasizes man's responsibility to his government.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts and that nearly all who use it for kidney disorders are more than pleased with the results.

URGES THEM TO HURRY.

Secretary Bryan Advises Americans to Return Home.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Secretary Bryan yesterday cabled all American embassies and legations in Europe to urge Americans to leave Europe without delay.

Secretary Bryan issued the following formal statement:

"Americans in Europe are advised to return home as soon as they can secure transportation facilities. War creates uncertainty so that predictions about the future cannot be made with any certainty or accuracy. It is not wise, therefore, for Americans abroad to delay their return longer than necessary. This does not mean that every one should try to take the same ship, but it means there should be no unnecessary delay."

It is estimated that the total number of motor vehicles in the world is about two million two hundred and twenty-six thousand.

Compromise in League May Take Three of His Games Won.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 28.—Realizing that continued defiance of President James Frank, of the Southern Michigan league, endangered the future of organized baseball in Bay City, owners of the Beaver club have withdrawn from their rebellious stand and the team will resume play in Mt. Clemens.

The terms on which peace was declared are as follows:

Outfielder Barry's three day suspension and fine of $5 for making statements reflecting on the league head will stand. However, the three days having expired yesterday, he will play against the Bathers.

Outfielder Coombs and Pitcher Caesar to return to the game after serving five days and paying fines of $10 each for inciting Bay City riots.

Third Baseman Steele to remain under suspension for the remainder of the season and pay a fine of $25 for fighting with umpires.

Fines of $100 against Manager Danny Jenkins and $225 against the Beaver club for the playing of suspended players and failure to furnish police protection to be decided by the league at its next meeting.

The terms include no statement relative to the recent series forfeited to Saginaw. In local circles it is not thought unlikely that the three games will be thrown out as Ducky Holmes, manager of the Saginaw club, played two games on Sunday in direct violation of Mr. Frank's orders.

Settlement of the differences between the Bay City club and the league serve to alleviate a most delicate situation. Not only was the welfare of the league endangered, but owners of the Beavers' franchise were in a way to lose title to players valued at several thousands of dollars by their continued belligerent attitude.

Dignity of League Upheld.

Moreover, the dignity of the league and its executive have been upheld. Had Mr. Frank yielded to Bay City's demands, it would have indicated the ability of a single city to dictate the policies of the organization by mob rule.

In a long distance telephone communication Mr. Frank expressed his satisfaction at the ending of the trouble. So complicated were affairs yesterday that no agreement was in sight. Reports were in circulation to the effect that the Bay City club would play independent baseball for the remainder of the season. For this reason the end of the trouble seemed most remote.

In discussing the affair Mr. Frank said: "President Shares himself has investigated the matter since Sunday's riot. He has talked with umpires and players of other clubs and has become convinced that his athletes were deserving of suspension. The case of Steele is an example. After investigating his record Mr. Shares declares that he will not permit the third baseman to play on his club again.

"The whole affair has been most unfortunate. Yet I feel that it has clarified the atmosphere and that further trouble is most unlikely. Mr. Shares has previously been an ardent fan. I am convinced that as a result of his investigation he has become a magnate."

1914 OUTFIELDS BELOW STANDARD

Central League Outer Defense Weak With the War Club.

Compared with the outfields of former years the men playing on the outer defense of the Central league this year are lamentably weak at bat and the latest figures made public by President Louis Heilbroner show that there are not more than three legitimate .300 men in the ranks of this year.

Charles ("Punch") Knoll, after a slump that began at Dayton and continued three years, is back in the select class and for a time led the league, and can be counted in the .300 or better circle without stretching a point.

Ray ("Deerfoot") Spencer has always been able to hold his own in class B and is legitimately entitled to his present place, which a week ago was along with the men who are leading the attack in the circuit.

Fred Streeter, Art Hauger and Mike O'Day, of Fort Wayne, Evansville and Grand Rapids respectively, have been around the .300 mark part of the season but they have barely held their own, and not one of them is of the real slugging type—the men who can be counted on to maintain their gait with runners on the bag.

Streeter beats out balls that roll slowly to the infield and builds up his batting average on that kind of play. O'Day is a good man to bunt and beat the throw to first and Hauger gets his record on real hits and hits that drive in runs, and sifted down there are really but three hard-hitting outfielders in the organization and one of them is there by a very narrow margin and his hitting has never been impressive enough to put him in the first string attack.

Last season Sheldon Lejuene batted .346 in the Central league, and as the scoring in Grand Rapids was in careful hands and he never got any the best of it on the road, it is safe to say that his mark was obtained in the right way and is absolutely reliable.

Guy Tutweiler played in 115 games and quit with .343 to his credit, and there is no reason to believe that his record was padded the least bit. George Wheeler, of Terre Haute, could not do much outside of his ability to hit the ball, but he hung up an average of .345 in 107 games and was entitled to everything he got.

Cherley Stewart, who went from the Springfield club to the Cubs on the strength of his batting, landed an average of .343, just the same as George Wheeler's, and big John ("Lefty") Core fence-busted his way to a mark of .324 for the Grand Rapids champs.

Eddie Roush went to the White Sox from the Evansville team on the strength of a batting average of .317, and this makes half a dozen real sluggers as compared with really two this year. Five of these men advanced in baseball on their Central league showing, and one quit the game to become a veterinary surgeon. This one was Mr. Core.

Hughie Shaw, of Dayton, hung up a mark of .325 but it was a freak and of no special benefit either to him or his team as he did not advance and was released after a few weeks this season with Dayton.

Miller of Evansville, Donahue of Terre Haute, and Grimes of Grand Rapids, all of whom played in from fifteen to thirty-three games, were in the .300 class.

Fred Bratchi and "Red" Smith of Fort Wayne, Lon Spair, Andy Kyle and "Yank" Davis of Terre Haute, "Dutch" Meister and Arista DeHaven of Dayton, Marshall, Grimes and O'Day of Grand Rapids, and Jack Kibble of Evansville, are men hitting all the way from .250 to .290 but they lack that punch that makes them dangerous and the pitchers do not fear them like they did that crew of wreckers turned out of the league in 1913.

The success of the Boston Braves is due, primarily, to Stallings, and secondarily to the wonderful inner wall of defense. Giving the pitchers all due credit the infield has stood between them and defeat day after day with the cleverest, most resourceful and brilliant defense seen on a modern team.

Not since the days of Tenney, Lowe, Long and Collins has the Hub seen such defensive play, such backing up, coaching and steadying of pitchers.

To a large extent this infield defense has been due to the great inside work of Johnny Evers, former Cub. Evers is an instinctive player, a wonderful natural fielder, a born leader and fighter and one of the closest students of the complicated inside game that baseball ever has known.

Evers always has been a great student of batters, a wonderful judge of the speed and bound of balls, a great man touching runners and a fellow who always is making plays in his head before a ball is hit. Down south before the men were acquainted with each other, Evers and Maranville discussed the way to work together around second base. Evers was willing to play either way—but Maranville is making throws to second and taking them, covering the bag and working in exactly the Evers way.

Maranville is much like Evers, small, a bundle of nerves and brain, fast working and fast thinking.

First base was a frightful problem for Stallings this spring. He expected to have Sweeney, who is a very fair second baseman, but an even better first baseman. The league saw fit to award Sweeney to Chicago and Stallings was compelled to make a first baseman to order. He tried out several, found them wanting and finally picked Schmidt.

Both Evers and Maranville snap a ball like a shot once it touches their hands. Many times Schmidt is just whirling into position and just has time to get up his hands when the ball arrives, but he grabs them—and that is enough.

Smith is the present third baseman. When this fellow first broke in at Brooklyn it looked as if the Dodgers had at last found a third baseman. For one entire season he played ball that stamped him as a coming wonder. Then he fell into the slipshod, careless, indifferent style of the Brooklyn team.

He became a second rater and finally was adjudged not worth while carrying. Boston grabbed him, first because Stallings knew him; second because Ernie Deal was wearing out under the strain.

The change of managers worked wonders. He jumped right in and commenced playing at the same gait he showed in his first year at Brooklyn. His fielding has been sensational and his hitting timely.

Deal, the reserve third baseman, is a Detroit castoff. He is today the best fielding third baseman in America; possessed of a marvelous pair of hands, and is a corking thrower. But he is not strong. Physically he cannot endure the strain of a bruising race. If Smith should falter he will be fresh for the finish and the chances are he will be needed before the ding dong down the stretch is finished.

PASSING BATTER VERY EASY TASK

Trouble in Penalizing Pitcher Would Lie in Telling When.

Most all is said that can be said about injecting into the now overburdened baseball rules a provision penalizing pitchers who purposely pass hard hitting batsmen with runners on the bases, and there is one question to be answered.

Who is to decide when a batsman is purposely passed?

The umpire, of course, is naturally the answer. How can the umpire tell?

Unless he is gifted with something that no arbiter has ever had since the game began, he can't.

Batsmen have been passed by pitchers with the bases full and games have been lost in that way. Passes have been given at times when pitchers have been exerting all their skill to get the ball over and a whole lot of damage has resulted from bases on balls.

When a catcher deliberately stands at the outside of his box and calls for the ball it is easy enough for anybody who knows the game to tell he is giving an intentional pass.

Suppose the catcher crouches, gives his signals in the ordinary way, calls for waste balls, which means they must not be over the plate, and gets them, there is nothing on the surface to show that a pass was purposely given and an umpire would have one fine time deciding the matter.

Unless the men who want the rule injected have some means of determining when a batter is passed intentionally and when one is passed because the pitcher is short of control it looks like the new rule does not stand much chance.

Right here in Fort Wayne there is a disposition to abuse the terms "all-star" and "fast" as applied to baseball and other sports with no very good reason for it. For instance a team is selected from the amateur, semi-pro and professional baseball castoffs and put in the field as an "all-star" combination.

As a matter of fact there is not a star or near-star in the whole lot, and there is no very good reason for calling the clubs by any such name. True, there may not be a pirate on the Pirate club, a badger on the Badger team or a pearl in the ranks of the Pearls, but these names do not carry the inference that this "all-star" stuff does.

In the selection of all-star combinations the best players in each position is picked and it is really what it purposes to be but there are no baseball stars in Fort Wayne from which such a combination can be chosen.

Every amateur team is fast. In its application to baseball fast does not just exactly mean speed. It carries with it ability in all lines, and calling amateur combinations fast certainly is a misnomer.

A game that was to have been played at League park on Sunday afternoon between the Badgers and one of these "All-Star" aggregations has been cancelled for the reason that the Badgers believe they have a better thing in a game at Auburn. The club will hold a meeting tonight to arrange for the trip.

Will Play at League Park Here Against a Local Combination.

Under arrangements completed today the Magnolias will play at League park on Sunday afternoon against the "All-Star" team that had been booked to tackle the Badgers.

The Magnolias have won the majority of their games this season and will play the same club they have carried since play opened in the spring. The other club is to be picked from the best available material in the city, and ought to give the Magnolias a hard battle. Play will start at 3 o'clock, and ladies will be admitted free.

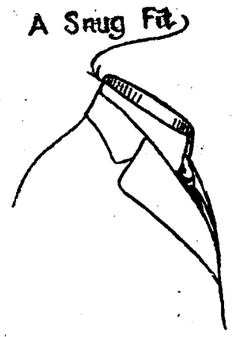
A Snug Fit



Ready-to-Wear Heider Wear

It's in Fine Points Like This That Heider Wear Excels

You've all seen the suit with a sag in the collar. There are lots of them.

And they're all ready-to-wear suits, too, the kind that fit only at the chest and waist and in length of leg.

It's in just such fine points as the collar that Heider-wear excels; a snug fitting collar you get and a smooth, unwrinkled suit everywhere else.

Besides measurements taken with tape and rule, our pattern drafters are supplied with answers to questions such as these: Are shoulders high, sloping or regular? Has he extra large shoulders? Is he extra hollow in front of shoulders? Is he erect or regular? Head forward? Or stoop shouldered? And so on until the cutter knows your exact build.

You always have had your suits made to measure? Good! You KNOW the advantages. But what prices have you paid? Suppose you look over our offerings this fall and put an extra ten dollar bill in your Christmas money. That's what we will save you and give you the style you want. You can't be too particular for us to satisfy.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Wheat sold down at the opening today on profit taking, but it required but little demand to check the decline. Important commission houses, describing the market as "crazy" and likening it to a dog chasing its own tail, advised customers to keep out of it. First prices were 1⅛c to 3c under yesterday's close and in the first fifteen minutes there was a further recession of ½c to 1c. May, touching $1.15, was exactly 10c under yesterday's top. It rose 2⅜c from the bottom on a mere hint of buying.
Corn was comparatively steady in view of the break in wheat but prices opened 1c to 1⅝c lower. Recovery of 1c ensued on buying by local bulls.
The close was weak 1⅛c to 1⅝c lower.
There was a big trade in oats. Profit-taking started the decline and brought out stop loss orders. Opening prices were ⅝c to 1¼c down. At the bottom resting orders were uncovered, under which there was an upward reaction to prices from ¼c under to ½c over yesterday's close.
Provisions were dull and easy, opening prices being 15c lower to 5c higher.

MARY MALOLEY UNDER CHARGES

Kaleel Bashara Says She Wrecked His Home and Procured Forgery.

Mary Maloley, the Syrian woman, who has figured much in Fort Wayne's underworld affairs, is sued in the circuit court by Kaleel Bashara, who demands $3,000 damages, alleging that the woman caused Mrs. Bashara to sue the plaintiff for divorce and that she also forged or procured to be forged the name of the plaintiff to a promissory note and mortgage for $2,500 on his residence property in this city. The complaint says that while the plaintiff was engaged in Danville, Ill., on business, the Maloley woman went to reside with Mrs. Bashara, with whom he had been living happily, peaceably and contentedly, and began to lie to his wife about him, speaking in low, degrading terms of him and making false charges and accusations of him to his wife with the intent to turn her against him and to form a hatred and dislike of him and to get her to apply for a divorce. She succeeded, says the complaint, in turning the wife's love, admiration and respect into hatred and contempt with the consequence that she applied for a divorce and when he returned from anville he was not permitted to enter his home or to see his young daughter. The complaint further says that the defendant wrongfully induced Mrs. Basrara to procure a loan of $2,500 on the plaintiff's property and that to this end the defendant either forged or procured to be forged his signature to a promissory note and mortgage.

Suit for $35,000 Damages.

Two suits for an aggregate of $35,000 damages have been filed in the circuit court against the city of Fort Wayne, the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, the Central Union Telephone company and Messrs. David R. Forgan, Edgar F. Bloom, Frank F. Fowle and John A. Morriarity, receivers for the Central Union company, for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained by Henry C. Becquette and his wife, Margaret Becquette. The complaints set out that while the plantiffs were residing, January 1, 1914, at the corner of Washington and Francis streets, he was using tracting company lighting current and that the high tension wires of the city and the two defendant companies were so intermingled and out of repair as to be in contact with primary wires and that on that date Mrs. Becquette went into the cellar and turned on an electric light, and that when she did so she received such a shock as knocked her to the floor and burned her feet and hands and disfigured her for life. The husband ran to her assistance and received a similar shock, the flesh of his hands, feet and body being literally cooked. It is said that before the accident the husband was capable of earning $50 a week and the wife in her capacity as a professional nurse, $25 a week. The sum of $25,000 is demanded for Mrs. Becquette and $10,000 for her husband.

Fingers Broken; Demands $1,000.

John Hassan, a laborer, has commenced suit in the circuit court against the Western Gas Construction company, demanding damages in the sum of $1,000 for the breaking of two fingers, which he alleges to be the result of the carelessness of a fellow employe who dropped his end of a 300 pound steel casting the two were carrying.

Notes of the Courts.

Daniel F. Bash, Nora B. Hughes and Harry E. Bash have brought suit in the circuit court against the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for $900 damages for killing of a mare and her colt on the defendant's electric railray track southwest of city. The company is charged with failure to properly fence its right of way.

Fred Lambert has started suit in the circuit court against George E. Johnson for possession of real estate and $500 damages.

In the case of the state ex rel, Cora Stirlen vs. Edgar Stirlen, Judge Ryan has issued an order citing Stirlen to appear September 5 and show cause why he has not paid certain allowances as ordered in a divorce decree granted Cora Stirlen.

The suit of Henry Minnich vs. S. Bash & Co., is still on trial before Judge Ryan and a jury in the superior court.

SHERIFF'S ACCOUNTS CORRECT.

Field Examiners Haefling and Schafer, from the state accounting board, report that they have found the accounts of Sheriff A. C. Gladieux's office entirely correct and the books accurately and correctly kept. Last year something in excess of $100,000 went through the sheriff's hands and all of this is accounted for. The field examiners pay Sheriff Gladieux a sincere tribute for the ability with which his office is administered.

For the fifth time the accounts of Township Trustee Henry E. Branning, of Wayne township, have been gone over by field examiners, and the last time, like the first time and intermediate times, he was given a clean bill.

NATURE IMPEDES RUSSIAN ADVANCE

Lakelets and Marshes in Prussia Sown With Rifle Pits.

London, Aug. 28.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Post, in describing the operations on east Prussia, tells of the difficulties which nature has placed in the way of the Russian advance and says the Germans had enormously multiplied these difficulties by a modern adaptation of age-old methods. Lakelets and marshes were sown with rifle pits and wherever practicable redoubts of felled timber were placed everywhere there were formidable wire entanglements.

"We have no exact information," the correspondent continues, "of how many corps Germany had left to oppose the Russian advance. Perhaps there were seven and possibly only five. Whatever their number three are retreating under cover of the fortresses of Koenigsburg and one is in full flight on Osterode.

"All four flung away in retreat their arms and ammunition and even their food.

"The Russian armies by forced marches have driven a wedge between the German forces. So demoralizing was the Russian commander's strategy that the German forces abandoned their entrenched positions on the Angrapp without a fight.

"The authorities of east Prussia have caught the panicky feeling from Germany's armies. It is reported that the commandant of Marienberg has ordered the inhabitants to evacuate the country while at Elbing the sluices were opened with the object of flooding the country to prevent the Russian advance. These are methods of despair and indicate pretty certainly that Germany has no more trained troops to oppose the Russians. With true eyes for strategy, which mark the born commander of men, Grand Duke Nicholas has abandoned to its fate everything everywhere which did not lend itself to the attainment of a single aim of locating, attacking and crushing the enemy's main force.

"In accordance with this policy quite half of Poland was left bare of Russian troops and all public servants of Russia's state were warned to quit when the Germans advanced.

"Both the Austrians and Germans accepted the invitation to this easy conquest. There were no soldiers anywhere to meet the German invaders, whose cavalry raided as far as Lodz, but they have since been swept out again."

DEMOCRATS LOOK FOR A BIG CROWD

Candidates and Committeemen Will be Given Final Instructions

With a mass meeting to be held Saturday afternoon at headquarters on East Main street, the democrats of Fort Wayne and Allen county will officially open their campaign. The meeting is to open promptly at 1:30 o'clock, according to Secretary Otto Koenig and County Chairman W. A. Johnson will preside.

The principal addresses will be delivered by Prosecutor Harry H. Hilgeman and Edward G. Hoffman, district chairman. Other brief addresses will be called for among the candidates and among other business of the meeting, the members of the central committee will be given instructions as to the work expected of them during the coming campaign.

Registration will be discussed and each voter present will be requested to cast aside all other business September 5, in an effort to secure a complete registration on that day. The September 5 period is an extra one and it is the desire of the county organization heads to practically complete the democratic organization at that time.

RALSTON WILL BE KEYNOTER

Governor to Open State Democratic Campaign September 15.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28.—The democratic state campaign will be opened here the night of Sept. 15 by Governor Ralston, who was chosen yesterday afternoon to deliver the keynote speech. On the following night local meetings will be held by the democrats in nearly every county in Indiana.

The meeting of the state committee, nominees on the state ticket and democratic leaders generally at the Canoe club yesterday afternoon was attended by more than sixty men, nearly all of whom remained for a chicken dinner given by State Chairman Bernard Korbly and the state committee.

Korbly said last night that the meeting was one of the best held since he was placed at the head of the organization. It was called to get reports from every county, to arrange for the campaign opening and to consider plans for extending and strengthening the organization.

Two Members Absent.

All of the members of the committee, except E. E. Cox, of Hartford City, and W. E. Longley, of Noblesville, were present. Nearly all of the state officials and nominees on the state ticket attended the conference. National Committeeman Taggart came up from French Lick for the meeting. Governor Ralston, Mayor Bell and many other party leaders participated.

Chairman Korbly said that he was pleased with the reports made. There was a general discussion of the campaign the republicans are making to make the impression that the democrats have brought bad business conditions and that they have wasted the state finances. The committee and candidates decided to fight back and they will get under way against the republicans within a short time.

That the prolonged session of congress has proved a source of worry to the democratic leaders was apparent at the meeting. Chairman Korbly asserted that congress probably will not adjourn for several weeks, so that no help can be expected from Senators Shively and Kern and the members of the congressional delegation, all of whom are candidates for re-election. They can not return to their districts as long as congress is in session and it will be necessary for the committee to depend on local speakers. Governor Ralston will do most of the speaking for the state ticket.

AT THE TEMPLE

One of the most perfectly balanced vaudeville programs you will see in many a long day, is the current bill at the Temple, which opened yesterday afternoon and will run the remainder of the week. Headlined by a nifty musical sketch, the bill runs the gamut of vaudeville endeavor including even a strong man act done by three midgets that is a rarely amusing stunt. Sam Mylie, known wherever a laugh is enjoyed as a fun maker extraordinary, has a crack musical skit "Mixed Nuts" which gives Mylie a grand opportunity to exhibit his unique talents as a comedian. The skit which is produced by Mylie and a company of six people, four of them pretty girls with excellent voices, tells a story of a loose nut from a New York asylum. Mylie as the loose nut has some excellent comedy lines and his lead song "I'm a Nut Sundae," is a rare touch. The girls sing "Not Today," a song that yesterday scored a tremendous hit.

The remainder of the bill is quite up to the high standard of the leading act, as it includes Cal Stewart and his funny stories about "the old hum town," the Three Marconi Brothers and their wonderful piano-accordions, the Piccolo Midgets, Selbinie and Grovini and the photo play.

All Matting Suit Cases half price.

AT THE EMPRESS

Tonight from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock the Empress orchestra under the direction of J. T. Jackson, will render the first of its series of Friday evening concerts. Much interest in this treat which has been arranged by the Empress management for the entertainment of the theater's patrons, is being taken by the music lovers of the city.

The opening of the bill for the last half of the week at the Empress yesterday showed that the bill is one of the very best seen here in a long time. The Six Imperial Pekinese thrilled everyone with their wonderful stunts. The slide for life by one member of the troupe while hanging from a rope by his queue, was particularly thrilling. Adams and Guhl, famous German comedians who were recently with the Anna Held show, proved to be a scream from start to finish. Black, Hume and Thomas made a big hit as did the other acts on the bill. Chung Ling, one of the Imperial Pekinese troupe who are the talk of Fort Wayne at the present time, and are appearing at the Empress theater, will slide from the Shoaff building to the transfer corner Saturday at 12 o'clock, swinging from a cable by his hair. This actor has a reputation of being one of the most daring of his profession. Arrangements are now being made by the management of the Empress theater for the slide which will be one of the most daring the actor has ever performed. Every afternoon and evening he is making a slide, which he terms as a short one, from the ceiling of the Empress balcony to the stage, while all those who see him hold their breath.

SPECIAL TRAINS BRING CONVERTS

Vast Throng in Attendance at Evangelists' Day at Winona.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 28.—esterday was Evangelists' day at the Winona Bible conference and it proved to be one of the big days of the session. Excursion trains brought great crowds from Muncie, Marion, Kokomo and Logansport. Nearly all were converts of Rev. Milford H. Lyon, the great Indiana evangelist, who held meetings in these cities last winter. They were addressed by Rev. Mr. Lyon. Two Muncie bands accompanied the delegation from that city.

About 350 evangelists from all parts of the world attended, the meeting being the greatest ever held. On the program were Rev. M. B. Williams, Rev. A. M. Bruner, Rev. Chester Burch, Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, Rev. John MacNeill, Rev. M. H. Lyon and Homer Rodeheaver.

The young women's conference, which is being held in connection with the Bible conference, has drawn many from all parts of the country. All denominations are represented. Miss Lois M. Lawrence is the secretary and Mrs. Carrie Stewart Besserer and Mrs. William A. Peterson are the leaders. Children's meetings are another new feature.

BELGIAN TELLS GERMAN DEMAND

London, Aug. 28.—4 a. m.—Telegraphing from Ostend the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says:

"The Germans on entering Tournai, Belgium, took the burgomaster and threatened to kill him and the other town officials if $400,000 demanded from the town was not forthcoming in two hours. The inhabitants were able to save the life of the burgomaster.

"No German forces are within twenty miles of Ostend. The German forces appear to be pressing forward all along the French frontier. I noticed all the names of towns had been obliterated from the sign posts.

"While I was in Courtrai four German officers rode into the town, which was entirely unprotected, halted at the hotel De Londres and asked if any German wounded men or prisoners were in the town. They received a negative reply and went away. The Germans first informed the hotel proprietors that they had been entirely successful against the allied forces at Mons and Charleroi and had killed ten thousand British.

"I hear in reliable quarters that several thousand German troops stationed in villages near Courtrai have been recalled to Charleroi by aeroplane messages. It seems that the Germans are hard pressed there.

"The Ostend newspapers state that in a battle between 25,000 French troops and 10,000 German troops four miles from Tournai the Germans lost 300

EHRMANN TRIAL AUGUST 28.

Terre Haute Manufacturer Expected to Plead Self-Defense.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 27.—The trial for the murder of Emil Ehrmann, the manufacturer, is set for next Friday, Aug. 28, at Rockville, a change of venue having been taken from the Vigo county court to the Parke circuit court. Ehrmann has employed several law firms, and the state will be represented by a deputy prosecutor from Vigo county, the Parke county prosecutor and by at least one attorney employed by organized labor.

At the time of the picketing of Ehrmann's overall factory by women strikers, the husband of a woman strike-breaker struck one of the women pickets. Edward Wade, a union teamster, was going to her defense when Ehrmann, in the doorway, shot him, it is alleged. The defense, it is understood, will be self-defense, based on the assertion that the factory and those connected with it were assailed by a mob.

ENGLISH UNDER FIRE OF FIVE ARMY CORPS

London, Aug. 28.—12:45 p. m.—Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons today that the British troops in Wednesday's fighting were exposed to the attack of five German army corps. The losses on both sides, he said, were great.

Premier Asquith said: "We have heard from Field Marshal Sir John French, commander in chief of the British expeditionary force, that in the fighting which took place between his army and the enemy on Wednesday August 26, and which appears from French official reports to have been in the neighborhood of Cambrai and Lecateau, our troops were exposed to the attack of five German army corps; two divisions of cavalry and a reserve corps of cavalry, and a second cavalry division.

"Our second corps in the fourth division bore the brunt of the cavalry attack while out first army corps were attacked.

Germans Still Advancing.

A dispatch to the Express, from Lille announces that the advance guard of Germans is now at Pont-a-Marcq and Marchiennes.

"This represents," says the Lille correspondent in his dispatch, "a slight further advance movement from Cysoing, where they were reported on Monday.

"There was heavy fighting at Marchiennes Thursday morning when the Germans broke through the French lines. The allies acquitted themselves well, however, and succeeded in pushing the German advance forces back on their main body. The German advance forces were also repulsed at Pont-a-Marcq.

"There was also fighting at Tournai, where the Germans were repulsed. It is believed here that the Germans have occupied Valenciennes but the British are reported to have driven back the enemy near Mons.

"There is nothing to indicate that the allies' line from Mons to Conde has been seriously turned.

"French industrial centers, such as Roubaix and Turcoing, are frequently visited by German cavalry and are occupied and evacuated every day."

BREAK FRENCH LINES.

German Cavalry Successful in Dash Near Arras.

London, Aug. 28. — A dispatch to the Times from Boulogne says it is asserted that German troops, presumably cavalry, have broken through the French lines near Arras in the province of Pas de Calais. The French moved up with rapidity, it is declared, and have the situation well in hand.

The dispatch says that the allied troops are being swiftly arranged to deal with any further attempt to break through the line between Dunkirk and Lille.

Arras, the birthplace of Robespierre, lies some fifty miles east by south of Calais.

The Exchange Telegraph company publishes a dispatch from its Ghent correspondent saying that the Germans have placed a number of quick firing guns in the outskirts of Brussels, principally on the north side, from which direction the Belgian troops in Antwerp would arrive for an attack. Brussels is calm, the correspondent continues. The German flag has been removed from the town hall to the ministry of foreign affairs.

RUSSIANS SUSTAIN NO CHECK.

German Troops in Prussia Evacuate Masurenland.

London, Aug. 28.—3:55 a. m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Paris gives additional war office communication, which says:

"After the victory of the Russians, the German troops in east Prussia evacuated the district of Masprenland (southeastern east Prussia). The Russians sustained no check in this very difficult engagement and yesterday they occupied its western outlets. It is confirmed that they captured a hundred guns from the enemy.

"In Galicia the Russian offense is being continued normally south and southwest of Frampol."

GERMANS ADVANCE BY SHEER WEIGHT

London, Aug. 28.—4:53 a. m.—The Times Rouen correspondent, describing the battle of Mons from the British wounded line, says: "The British artillery was magnificent, but there was not enough of it in comparison with the enemy's. There is universal testimony that gun for gun, both the English and French are superior to the Germans.

"The allies' shells burst without fail. The German gunners find the range smartly, but their shells frequently fail to burst and not infrequently miscarry and fall short. The sheer weight of their massed batteries carried them forward.

"Their infantry also advanced in close order and offered a magnificent mark. Their losses beyond question were greater than those of the allies, but so unfortunately were their numbers. They came and came again. All Sunday the English held their ground. On Monday morning came the order to retire."

FIRST SHIP IS UNDER THE FLAG

New York, Aug. 28.—The first ship to be registered under the American flag under the provisions of the recently enacted ship registry law is the Moldegaard, built in Norway in 1906 and owned by he Ocean freight line of this city. The papers of registry were signed today in the customs house by the officers and the port officials. The Moldegaard, 328 feet long, 2,852 tons burden, is manned by American officers as required by the new law.

Indiana Public Utilities Commission Reviews Its Work.

Indianapolis, Aug. 28.—The first annual report of the Indiana public utilities commission, covering the work from May 1, 1913, when it succeeded the Indiana railroad commission, to May 1, 1914, was made public today through Thomas Duncan, chairman of the commission. The report is extensive in character and range, and includes a score of elaborate tables, a summary of the utility law, causes for its passage, its constitutionality, its history in the 1913 legislature and its results to date.

Among the interesting statistical information are tables showing total capitalization and total indebtedness of Indiana utilities; tables purporting to show that "interlocking directorates" exist in many Indiana utilities property; tables showing the rates of service for every class of utility in the state; tables showing the control of steam and interurban roads in Indiana by "par-new construction, tax valuation and ne wconstruction, tax valuation and other details of steam and electric lines in the state and a general summary of each proceeding filed before the commission.

On June 13, 1913, the report states, the par value of the outstanding stock of railroad companies reporting in the United States was $964,741,412. The total funded debt of operating lines was $1,740,033,906.22 and the switching and non-operating lines swelled this amount to $2,082,829,880.22, of which amount $277,753,632.48 was invested in Indiana. A statement shows that the funded debt of the 37 railroads in Indiana is increasing about $50,000,000 a year.

"For the year ended June 30, 1913," the report continues, "but twelve railroads in Indiana paid any dividend whatever. The unprecedented floods of the spring of 1913 worked a tremendous loss to the railroads operating in Indiana. It is our judgment that the railroads spend large sums annually in fruitless strife with the people of the state."

There are 2,978.4 miles of interurban track within the state, according to one table and that these roads have an average stock liability of $40,000 per mile and an average bonded liability of about $34,000 a mile. The report shows that the interurban lines, while in some measure creating a new traffic, have greatly decreased the earning of the steam lines.

"It is with pride," says the report, "that we here note that the city of Indianapolis is the center of the largest and most important interurban development in the world."

WILSON WEARIED BY HIS JOURNEY

President Reaches Cornish Planning to Take Complete Rest.

Cornish, N. H., Aug. 28.—President Wilson arrived shortly after 1 o'clock for his vacation trip of the summer. A light rain was falling and the trip to "Harlakenden house," the "Summer White House," at Cornish, N. H., was made in a closed automobile.

Practically the entire population of Cornish and Windsor were at the station to welcome the president. He greeted all warmly.

Mr. Wilson was tired by the trip from Washington and under the orders of Dr. Grayson he planned to take a complete rest during his stay here. The only pressing business to occupy the president is the executive order he is to issue changing the navigation laws in accordance with the recent amendment to the Panama canal act. Should other important questions arise he will return immediately to Washington.

DEATH NOT DUE TO HEMORRHAGE

A post-mortem examination conducted Friday morning on the remains of Paul and Pauline Ullmer, five-year-old twin children of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ullmer, 422 Fairmount place, convinced Coroner E. H. Kruse that the deaths of the two children Thursday evening, six hours after operations for the removal of tonsils and adenoids, were not due to hemorrhages.

Seeking further for the cause of death, the coroner will direct a chemical analysis of the contents of the children's stomachs and of the urine. Following the post mortem Dr. Kruse and Deputy Prosecutor Callahan issued subpoenas for an inquest. Dr. C. M. Goheen, who performed the operations on the children, was instructed to bring with him all of the instruments used

BULLETIN.

Paris, Aug. 28.—11:28 a. m.—The Havas news agency declares today that two motorcyclists attached to the Belgian army, who arrived in Paris this morning from Namur, declare that the forts at Namur are still holding out and that they are not even ready to surrender.

NORTHERN ARMIES OF ALLIES CUT OFF

Washington, Aug. 28.—"The French and English north armies on the Sambre and Meuse rivers, have been surrounded by German troops on all sides as a result of the latest fighting," says a wireless from Berlin today to the German embassy.

The message adds that the French east army has been partly driven to the south. This has prevented communication between the French east and north armies, while all the German armies are in contact from Cambrai through upper Alsace. The German cavalry has advanced to Ostend.

"The appearance of a Zeppelin at Antwerp," the message continues, "has caused a panic in London.

"Reports to Berlin from Copenhagen and Stockholm announce that there is a grave crisis in the French government. The Spanish ambassador at Vienna has called the situation in France very serious.

"The Danish colony in Berlin has warned foreigners to beware of fictitious news.

"A meeting today of all foreign colonies in Berlin was held, at which a resolution was passed thanking the German government for the kind treatment of foreigners and to express admiration for the wonderful spirit and enthusiasm shown by the German people.

"Civilians of the Belgian town of Louvain made a perfidious attack on German troops while fighting. Louvain was punished by the destruction of the city."

ON THE FRENCH FRONTIER.

London Times Military Correspondent Sizes Up Situation.

London, Aug. 28.—The Times military correspondent in discussing the situation on the French frontier says:

"The news that the allies have retired to the line from Lecateau to Cambrai shows that active defense of the line from Lille to Maubeuge has been abandoned and that these two fortresses have been left temporarily to look after themselves.

"The necessity for holding the interval between the Schledt and Cambrai and the Sambre near Lecateau is probably due to the need for holding Mezieres. If the field armies are inferior to the enemy nothing remains but retreat to the Falsais of Champagne.

"If this line is skillfully defended it should be most difficult to penetrate Lafere, Laon and Rheims, which are provided with permanent fortifications. But we are not at that point yet.

"The line from Lecateau to Cambrai must expect an enveloping attack on the north but this attempt will probably fail.

"We have every right to expect success today but if we do not win a decisive victory we must abandon our bases on the coast north of the mouth of the Somme and shift further south, either to Havre or Cherbourg.

"If we are unable to resumed the offensive and beat back the German attack from the north one consequence will be that the Germans will establish air craft stations along the straits of Dover and thereby be able to keep us under constant observation.

"We must meet this by a counter attack with searchlight and anti-air craft guns. Sportsmen should make up practice parties for air ship shooting.

"The Germans will also mount their heaviest guns at any port they seize and nee more there will be an army encamped on the heights of Boulogne.

"Let us, however, be grateful for one mercy. The international financiers, doctrinaires and lunatics who wished to fit us out with a channel tunnel are silenced for good and all."

10,000,000 RUSSIAN TROOPS UNDER ARMS

London, Aug. 28.—5 p. m.—No news reached London today concerning the trend of events on any part of the battle line where fighting is in progress. Interest here is intense for it is felt the engagements now going on must have a great influence on the fate of Paris.

Ten million Russian soldiers have been enrolled under the standard of Emperor Nicholas, according to staff officers of the Russian army who have arrived here from St. Petersburg. At sea also Russia seems to be waking up. The sinking of the German cruiser Magdeburg reported yesterday is hailed here as significent and as showing that the Russian navy is no longer bottled up in the Gulf of Finland as has been reported.

The British marines in force are now in control of Ostend, says a dispatch from the last named place to the Times. They continued landing all day yesterday and several quick firers were brought ashore early today. The men present a splendid appearance and all are eager for a speedy meeting with the enemy. The work of disembarking is proceeding with smoothness and precision. Meanwhile the approaches to the station are thronged with sightseers and citizens who express regret that the marines were not landed sooner.

The British officers declare they have not landed sooner because of objections by the local authorities who held a meeting in the town hall where several prominent local officials objected to the British landing on the ground that it would frighten the hotel visitors.

The fighting at Snaeskerke on Tuesday changed the minds of these objectors and the city fathers did forthwith ask and the British government did send marines.

BELGIANS DAZED BY DEADLY GERMAN FIRE

Folkestone, Via London, Aug. 28.—4:05 p. m.—A number of Belgian wounded from Namur have arrived here but it is difficult to get any connected account of the fight. They state the Germans bombarded continually from Friday till Sunday and they believe it was the superiority in long range of the German guns which gave them the victory.

On Saturday a German shell exploded in Marchovelette fort and put the largest gun and one six inch gun out of action. Two hundred Belgians soldiers while trying to escape were practically annihilated by German shrapnel and machine guns.

On Sunday ammunition began to run short in some of the forts and more ammunition was sent for but the town fell at midday Sunday before the ammunition arrived. The Belgian soldiers made a splendid retirement, which was covered by the French troops.

CHARGE OF COWARDICE.

London, Aug. 28.—6:10 a. m.—Writing to the Matin on August 24, a copy of which paper has just reached London, Senator Gerrais, representing the Seine district, attributes the French disaster in Lorraine to the cowardice of a division of the Fifteenth army corps. They fled before the enemy, he writes, and compelled a retreat all along the line thus losing the fruits of carefully prepared strategy and nullifying the French advance beyond the river on Delme and Chateau Salins.

A series of reversals to British arms on the French frontier is officially announced in Berlin.

After nine days fighting the Germans claim to have put the western line of the allies to flight. The English, it is asserted, were defeated at Maubeuge, France, and the Franco-Belgians forces driven back toward Maubeuge.

Belgian attacks from Nancy and Antwerp were repulsed, it is declared.

Field Marshal Sir John French commander in chief of the British expeditionary force, reports that his troops were attacked by five German army corps and cavalry Wednesday in the neighborhood of Cambrai and Lecateau; and that their casualties were heavy. He does not state the outcome of the battle. Cambrai and Lecateau are French towns about ten miles southwest of Maubeuge and the description of the scene of the fighting reported by Field Marshal French and announced in the house of commons by Premier Asquith today fits in with the battle line indicated at Berlin.

An English correspondent at Lille, France, says the advance guard of the Germans is now at Pont-a-Marcq and Marchiennes, French towns just south of Lille in the department Du Nord.

A newspaper dispatch from Boulogne reports that the Germans broke through the French lines near Arras in the province of Pas de Calais, but that the French have the situation well in hand.

British marines are in force at Ostend. A press dispatch from that town says that the Germans are within 20 miles of the place.

King Charles of Roumania is reported seriously ill.

A British destroyer has sunk an Austrian destroyer off Corfu, according to a news dispatch from Brindisi, Italy.

German troops are reported as taking the offensive in Belgian Congo.

The Russian military attache at Paris is credited with the statement that additional Russian armies are about to invade western Prussia with the intention of marching on Berlin.

Henry S. Breckinridge, American assistant secretary of war, is in Vienna looking after some 400 Americans there. He expects to conclude his work at the Austrian capital today and proceed to Switzerland.

NEW YORK BANKS NOW TO EXPLAIN

New York, Aug. 28.—Heads of national banks in this city confirmed today the report that they have received a confidential communication from Secretary of the treasury McAdoo and Comptroller of Currency Williams, directing their attention to complaints registered at Washington by borrowers of money on stock exchange securities in this market.

According to the letter of the treasury officials it is charged that the banks had thrown out many loans on made on collateral of the most approved character and that they have in other ways worked hardship to holders of securities at this crucial period.

Acting upon these complaints, the treasury department has directed the national banks of this city promptly to furnish it with detailed information regarding its holdings of securities on loans.

in the operations and also bottles containing the remainder of the local anesthetics which he says alone were used.

It is said that previous to the operations, injections of one tablet of hyoscine, morphine and cactine had been given to each child hypodermically. It is possible according to the coroner that the drugs used were either of inferior quality or were defective in some manner, causing death by poisoning.

Dr. Goheen Talks.

Dr. Goheen Friday afternoon informed the Sentinel that the operations had been performed in the usual manner of such operations and as he had performed many similar ones during the past thirty-three years. He said that both children revived after the operation, and that they had not been given any but local anaesthetic. He said that after he had completed the operations he informed the mother that if she thought the children needed attention later, or if anything of a discouraging nature presented itself, she should call him. The doctor says he was called about 8:30 o'clock and when he reached the Ullmer home the boy was dead and the girl was dying.

Dr. R. M. Bolman and Dr. C. C. Kimmel were summoned by neighbors but when they arrived both children were dead. Neighbors and friends of the family numbering nearly one hundred gathered at the Ullmer home after it was learned that the children were dead, and for a time, or until the arrival of Coroner Kruse, it is said, threatened violence to Dr. Goheen.

Were Prize Twins.

The Ullmer twins were twice prize winners at the Robison park baby show and the last honor was awarded them two years ago. They were bright, active and apparently physically perfect infants. They were born in Fort Wayne February 15, 1909, and were pupils in the kindergarten department at the Bloomingdale school last term. They were also members of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. The father is employed at the Bovine saloon and surviving besides the parents is an older sister, Wilma.

Diluted Tablets.

Dr. Goheen, in a statement Friday morning to Coroner Kruse, declared that he had diluted the tablets administered one-tenth, or using one tablet to ten part of water and the hypodermic was administered in two injections of twenty drops each. Late Friday afternoon Dr. Kruse expressed confidence that the children died from hyoscine poisoning.

The babies will be buried in a double casket. The time nor date for the funeral has not been decided upon.

PITILESS THRUST OF STEEL AT CHARLEROI

Paris, Aug. 28.—8:35 a. m.—To the Matin's correspondent at Chartres, France, a colonial infantryman, wounded at Charleroi, related his experiences in the battle.

"We marched with our African comrades against the Prussian guard," he said. "We advanced in bounds amidst bullets humming, using every bit of cover we could. We felt intoxicated with the joy of battle.

"I couldn't say how long the action lasted. All I remember is that we fired our last shot within fifty yards of the enemy. Then it was the pitiless thrust of cold steel. It would have given us the victory for, however intrepid and steady are the troops we fight against, there are no soldiers in the world able to resist the Turco's bayonet charge.

"My regiment's effort, alas! was broken by quick firers skillfully hidden in the ruins of an old factory. We were obliged to fall back and we made enormous gaps in the kaiser's crack regiments."

All the wounded at Charleroi agree that while the German rifle shooting was poor, they used the quick firers with great intelligence. Quick firers, however are easily unmasked, and the French 75 millimetres guns put them out of action two minutes after they are located.

Rescues His Enemy.

A dispatch to the Havas agency from Coulommiers, France, says:

"Among the wounded who have arrived here is a German infantryman, an Alsatian, who came into the French lines during the fight in Belgian Luxemburg carrying on his back a wounded French sergeant thus saving him from falling into the hands of the enemy. The Alsatian himself was wounded while rescuing the Frenchman."

Attack in Belgian Congo.

A dispatch to the Havas agency from Libreville in the French Congo, says that the Belgian Congo has been attacked by German troops.

The Belgian administration, in accord with Great Britain, has taken defensive measures and has informed the French government of its action.

BRAVE DEFENCE BY BELGIANS FAILURE

London, Aug. 28.—The Mail's correspondent at Rotterdam sends a telegram from Antwerp, dated Thursday night, which says:

"After a magnificent defense of two days by the Belgian army, Malines was re-taken by the Germans.

"On the first day 20,000 Germans opposed the Belgians and on the second day 40,000 threw their might against a greatly inferior force. The Belgians retired on Antwerp leaving the enemy in possession of the town. The Germans immediately entrenched after ordering the inhabitants to leave. Wachten and Heindoniek were destroyed by the retreating Belgians to prevent their being used as a cover by the enemy in their operations against Antwerp.

"Refugees at Rosendaal say the Germans possessed amazing knowledge of the roads. The German attack on Malines was furious and inspired by a desire to end the sorties which the Belgians were making from the town against their trenches and around Brussels.

"The Belgians had made successful attacks on the German lines of communication and had seriously hampered their operations. This necessitated the return of the fourth German army corps which had already started for the south.

"Sixty thousand Belgian refugees fled from the town.

"The Germans are furious at the Belgian operations and declare they will raze Antwerp to the ground in revenge.

"Emile Vandervelde, the Belgian socialist, was one of the most prominent figures in the battle, encouraging the Belgians who, he said, were fighting for the most righteous cause in the world."

VON KLUK HEMMING IN ENGLISH AT MAUBEUGE

Berlin, Aug. 28.—(By Wireless to the Associated Press, Via Sayville, L. I.)—7:46 a. m—Headquarters has issued an official report declaring that the western enemy has everywhere been defeated and is in full retreat after nine days' fighting.

General Von Kluk defeated the English army at Maubeuge, renewed the attack today and threatened to surround it.

Generals Von Buelow and Von Hausen completely defeated the Franco-Belgian forces, about eight corps, between the Sambre and the Namur and the Meuse in several days' battle and are now pursuing them to the eastward of Maubeuge.

The attack of Maubeuge was opened by the Grand Duke Albrecht, of Wurtemberg, who defeated and pursued the enemy across the Semois and the Meuse. The German crow prince is advancing towards the Meuse and the crown prince of Bavaria repulsed an attack from Nancy and the south.

Continues the Pursuit.

Gen. Von Heringen continues the pursuit southward through the Vosges. Four Belgian divisions attacking Tuesday and Wednesday from Antwerp have been repulsed, losing guns and many prisoners. The Belgian population generally participated in the fighting necessitating severe repressive measures.

The corps of last reserves have been called out to guard communications.

The Friars' club has postponed its dance to have been held Friday night at Robison park until next Friday.

It is difficult to describe the fierce exultation of all classes in Berlin over the news of the British reverses at Maubeuge, as announced officially from army headquarters today.

The German resentment against England for having "injected herself into this conflict," and for calling in Japan, a yellow race, is so deep that news of the surrender of the British army on the continent would be received with more joy and satisfaction in Berlin than tidings of the fall of Paris.

It is reported here today that a portion of the British force is at present shut up in Maubeuge.

The Berlin populace, inspired by the announcement from military headquarters that the "iron ring" is making its way around the French, British and Belgian forces from Cambrai to the Vosges, exhibits little concern regarding the situation on the eastern frontier of Germany. It has full confidence that the task on the west line will be speedily finished and that the victorious German armies will then make sharp work of clearing German soil of the Russians.

A correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt reports that Louvain, in Belgium, bitterly punished for the uprising of its civilian population, has almost ceased to exist.

Photograph shows French "Turcos" wading through a stream in maneuvers. The "Turcos," though not themselves Europeans were the first surpassing heroes of the war in Europe. A regiment of them at the BATTLE OF CHARLEROI was sent against a strong German battery with the bayonet. The battery was supported by a heavy force of German riflemen, but the "Turcos" charged to the cannon mouth with the cold steel. They were 600 when they started. When they took the battery and turned it on the Germans there were only 100 of them left. The "Turcos" belong to the foreign legion of the French army. They are recruited from the Arabs and Bedouins of Algiers, a French African possession.

Tires at Before-War Prices

Yet We Never Got Choicer Rubber We Never Built Better Tires

There exists now a new reason—most compelling—for buying Goodyear Tires. It results from war conditions.

Due to Quick Action

Early in August—when war began—the world's rubber markets seemed suddenly closed to us. Rubber prices doubled almost over night.

Men could see no way to pay for rubber abroad, and no way to bring it in. We, like others—in that panic—were forced to higher prices. But we have since gone back to prices we charged before the war, and this is how we did it:

We had men in London and Singapore when the war broke out. The larger part of the world's rubber supply comes through there. We cabled them to buy up the pick of the rubber. They bought—before the advance—1,500,000 pounds of the finest rubber there.

Nearly all this is now on the way to us. And it means practically all of the extra-grade rubber obtainable abroad.

Today we have our own men in Colombo, Singapore and Para. Those are the world's chief sources of rubber. So we are pretty well assured of a constant supply, and our pick of the best that's produced.

We were first on the ground. We were quickest in action. As a result, we shall soon have in storage an almost record supply of this extra grade of rubber.

And we paid about June prices.

Now Inferior Grades Cost Double

About the only crude rubber available now for many makers is inferior. In ordinary times, the best tire makers refuse it. Much of it has been rejected. But that "off rubber" now sells for much more than we paid for the best.

The results are these:

Tire prices in general are far in advance of Goodyears. And many tire makers, short of supplies, will be forced to use second-grade rubber.

Be Careful Now

In Goodyears we pledge you the same-grade tire as always. And that grade won for Goodyears the top place in Tiredom—the largest sale in the world.

And, for the time being, our prices are the same as before the war. We shall try to keep them there.

We accept no excessive orders, but dealers will be kept supplied. And we charge them, until further notice, only ante-bellum prices.

That means that Goodyears—the best tires built—are selling way below other tires.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

John 9:1-12.

1 And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind? 3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but thatthe works of God should be made man ifest in him.

4 I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,

7 And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way threfore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

FRIDAY, AUG. 28, 1914.

The Offer to Mr. Foster

When he tendered the important appointment of ambassador of the Argentine Republic to Samuel M. Foster, of Fort Wayne, President Wilson supplied another example of his capacity for selecting high-grade men for governmental posts of exalted and first consequence. That Mr. Foster has said that he does not feel that he can accept the place in no wise detracts from the honor paid him, and, incidentally, to Fort Wayne, also, by the president's action.

To have been the president's selection as the first representative of the United States to bear the rank of ambassador to the Argentine government is no mean distinction. The place was but recently raised by congress from minister to that of ambassador, the change carrying with it additional importance and new dignity in the diplomatic world, with its incidental advantages in the matter of salary. The latter phase, however, is perhaps of minor importance from the fact that ordinarily no diplomatic representative of the United States is able to maintain his station in magnitude befitting the dignity and importance of the United States without supplementing the diplomatic salary by rather imposing contributions from the private purse. It will doubtless be true in the case of the new ambassador to Argentine, whoever he may be. Buenos Aires, often called "the Paris of South America," will doubtless levy a considerable tribute on the personal exchequer of the man whm Uncle Sam sends to represent him at that point.

Mr. Foster's reasons for declining the post will doubtless appeal with much force to those who enjoy his close acquaintance. His tastes and inclinations are in no wise along the line of diplomatic ceremony. He is essentially a business man, forceful and successful. His business interests are of much magnitude, but he is able to look forward to the time when he may round out his career in relaxation from the manifold activities which have claimed his best years. This does not mean idleness for Mr. Foster could not be idle if he set out to do so. His will be to the last the vigorous, progressive, public-spirited personality that has long since won him first rank in citizenship in the community which has so long been his home. From Mr. Foster's standpoint he doubtless reasons well in declining to assume the new and untried burdens of high diplomatic responsibility, however strong may be the lure of an honor so high. That he would be successful in it, and that his services would be of tremendous value to the government are two elements in the situation that admit of no doubt, and the tender of the place is a distinction the recollection of which can never cease to be gratifying both to Mr. Foster and to Fort Wayne.

Chairman McCombs is out in a warning to New York politicians gainst what he terms "back stairs conspiracies" in political practice in that state. The popular impression is that that sort of thing has obtained in New York so long that New York fancies she cannot keep political house without it.

The policy of "watchful waiting" has again been vindicated. The sheriff of Brown county lay most of the night in the hills watching a function announced as an "ice cream social" and discovered it to be the liveliest sort of a blind tiger enterprise. Arrests followed.

Opposing an advance in tax rates, the auditor of Marion county declares that this is no time to raise 'em. As a matter of fact, the average citizen will agree that this position is, has always been and will continue to be the eminently correct one for all time to come.

One cannot help wondering whether tomorrow is going to be a German day or French day in the war news. The warriors seem to be taking a rather regular turn about in getting the better of the tidings from the front.

DOCKING ABSENTEES.

The resulution adopted by the house yesterday to enforce the law that has been ignored for twenty years, docking members for absence except through illness, provokes a howl of discrimination. It is asserted by republican and progressive members that the resolution was adopted only after the southern democrats had concluded their campaigns for renomination at the primaries, which is equivalent to election, whereas the republican and progressive members from northern states have to make their campaign from now on. The fact as stated is true enough, but if there has been any discrimination it operates just as effectively against the northern democratic members as their republican and progressive colleagues. It may, therefore, be inferred that the discrimination clamor is for partisan consumption and like many other assertions made by all parties at times for the same effect bears no necessary relation to the fact.

The last time this law was enforced was during the previous democratic administration, when it was resorted to to hold votes for the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill. But it was a temporary spasm of virtue, the old practice of ignoring the law being resumed, apparently with unanimous non-partisan consent, within a few months. The vote of yesterday can not be regarded as promising a longer enforcement now. As one member frankly admits, to have voted against the resolution would have been more awkward than to vote for it. But any assumption that hereafter members of the house will be compelled to be in their seats each day to collect their pay would be excessively optimistic. When the excitement has blown over the checking officer will probably be tipped off to "forget it," just as it was forgotten twenty years ago.

Nevertheless, there can be no question of the correctness of the attitude assumed by the house yesterday. The law is on the statute books. It is a good one, designed to guarantee that members of congress shall learn their salaries. The lawmakers can not afford to set the example of ignoring the law.

(Toledo Blade.)

Wherever possible, an enlisted man in one of the big European armies is saved the fatigue of marching. In the American civil war, the enlisted man marched great distances over rocky and frozen roads and roads of bottomless mud.

The commanding officers in Europe always have in mind the physical condition of the soldier and the medical staff is charged more with the duty of maintaining the armies in good health than with caring for the wounded. Little thought was given the general health of the northern and southern armies in our great war, the generals concentrating their attention mostly upon strategy.

The camps in Europe are guarded against epidemic. Disease swept through the camps of the civil war until at the end of hostilities more men had died of disease than had died of wounds.

The European soldier is well clothed. His footgear is as good as can be made. In his outfit is material for staunching bleeding and for binding up wounds. The American soldier of the war of the rebellion was, more frequently than not, insufficiently outfitted as to clothes and footgear, and, if he had "aid to the wounded" materials he supplied them himself.

The wounded soldier in Europe is sent to a hospital as well equipped and organized as the finest of city hospitals. The field hospitals of our civil war were a scandal. The wounds made by modern rifles are wounds that as a rule quickly heal, being small and clean. The wounds made by the older weapons shattered bones and tore flesh. The prisoners of today are sent to clean and sanitary prisons. They are well fed and amply sheltered. The prisoners of the sixties were herded in such pens as Andersonville and Camp Douglas, where disease and ill-treatment slew them by hundreds.

For size and for the destructiveness of the weapons used, the world has seen no war so terrible as that going on in Europe. But in point of the misery which the common soldier is called upon to endure, this European war is a child's game compared with the war fought by the men in blue and gray.

PRAISE FOR MR. BITTLER.

(Anderson Bulletin.)

George A. Bittler, of Fort Wayne, democratic nominee for state treasurer, has been complimented very highly in a report made to Governor Ralston by J. E. Reed, republican, and L. H. Arnold, democrat, who have just completed an examination of the department of the state accounting board.

Mr. Bittler was appointed one of the chief deputy accountants by Thomas R. Marshall during his administration as governor, nearly four years ago. He has devoted himself very closely to the minute work of the accounting board. During the last two or three years he has had charge of the settlement department and has handled it in such a way that a great deal of the trouble that was experienced during the first two years of the operation of the law has been eliminated. Mr. Bittler is a great success—a financial expert.

Today's Lesson in War Geography.

TOUL—One of the most ancient towns in Lorraine. Is a fortress of the first class. It lies 199 miles from Paris and is located between a canal and the Moelle. Its bishopric was founded by an Irish monk in 350. Its population is 14,000.

MONTMEDY—Fortress of the second class, 31 miles from Sedan. A rocky and isolated hill has been fortified as a citadel. It has a population of about 3,000. The Germans captured it in 1870.

CHALONS-SUR-MARNE—Chief city of the department of Marne and headquarters for a French army corps. City of 30,000 and important center of champagne trade. Was the scene of one of the "Fifteen Decisive Battles of the world" in 451 when Attila and his Huns were defeated by the Romans. Prussians, Russians and Germans have at various times captured it.

YPRES—City of 18,000 in southwestern Flanders, chiefly occupied in making Valenciennes lace. In 1247 it was a city of 200,000 and the largest cloth-making center in the world. Popular uprisings, the great plague of 1347 and varied wars reduced its population. Art lovers have found it most interesting.

KOENIGSBERG—Second capital of Prussia and object of Russian attack. It is 365 miles from Berlin. Its regular garrison numbered 9,500 and was headquarters for the First Army corps. A canal to Pillau admits ships of 21 ft. draught. Population, 250,000.

SAMLAND—Fertile and partly wooded district lying north of Koenigsberg. Its coast lines, for a thousand years, have been known as the "Amber Coast." The gathering of amber is a royal monopoly and visitors have been forbidden to pick fragments from its beaches.

PILLAU—Fortress on the Prussian coast with improved harbor and lighthouses. It lies at the mouth of the Firsches Haff and has a population of 7,500.

RECALL AN OLD ROMAN PROVERB

Rome, Aug. 28.—The old Roman proverb that the man entering the conclave expecting to be pope always leaves as a cardinal, is being recalled as the college of cardinals assembles to choose a successor to the late Pius X.

The patriarch of Venice himself neither sought nor expected the election in 1903, and his successor may quite as likely be found outside those who have been most talked of as the next pope.

That he will be an Italian has been regarded as almost a certainty, for the state of affairs throughout Europe is said to make it more desirable than ever that the church should not depart from its traditions. But there is, from the American side, a possibility that the tradition might still be maintained and at the same time an American citizen be elevated to St. Peter's throne. This would be in case of the election of Diomede Falconio, Italian by birth, who was for many years a missionary in America and then papal delegate to the United States, and who became a naturalized American citizen during his residence abroad.

Cardinal Falconio is, however, only one of several logical candidates and only one of many possibilities.

There is little doubt if any authorization for speculating on the chances of the many candidates. Following are some of the names that have been mentioned, with brief biographical data:

Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, the dean of the sacred college, was born a year earlier than the late pope, but at 80 he is still young in years in comparison with a number of his colleagues. In reality, however, he has aged greatly since 1903, when he was talked of as a successof Pope Leo XIII. Today he is almost blind, stone deaf and in such a low state of health generally that he has been less seriously discussed at the present time.

The Vannutelli family is the only one which has two members in the cardinalate, Vincent Vannutelli, a brother of the dean, is quite as prominent. Under Pius X he held the prefecture of the apostolic signature, which is "the court of last appeal" in all questions relating to marriage under the Catholic laws. He is now 78 years old and doubtless he is well remembered in the United States, where he was greeted by thousands of Catholics in many cities during his tour of that country in 1910. On this tour he delivered an address at the consecration of St. Patrick's cathedral in New York.

Cardinal Martinelli is even better known in the United States, where he was papal delegate from 1896 to 1902, previous to the service of Cardinal Falconio, at Washington. He is 66 years old and under Piux X he was prefect of the congregation of rites.

Cardinal Agliardi, the sub-dean of the sacred college, is the eldest among those who have been mentioned as possibilities. He is now in his eighty-third year, so that consideration of his name could not be taken seriously without involving the danger of a short pontificate.

Cardinal Gotti, who is also a year older than was the late pope, was one of those prominently mentioned as a successor to Leo XIII, when it was urged both for him and against him that he was a strict conservative churchman, said to be opposed to liberal views as exemplified in America. He is the son of a dock laborer in Genoa. Under Pius X he was prefect of the congregation for the propagation of faith, a most influential position in earlier days, but less important since the strictly missionary lands have become less numerous.

Cardinal Gasparri has been held in high regard for his learning. He is the most eminent of the church canonists, having lately completed the codification of the canon law of the church, an orderly arrangement of the entire body of laws. If elected it is said he would be another Leo XIII.

Cardinal Maffi, the archbishop of Pisa, was once a newspaper man. He is a noted astronomer and has written many volumes on the subject. He is a native of Corteolna and is in his fifty-sixth year. Pius X frequently invited him to Rome to remain in an official capacity, but the people of Pisa begged him to stay with them and he heeded their plea.

Cardinal Ferrata, secretary of the congregation of the holy office, is in high favor among the theologians. It has been said he would be the nearest possible duplication of the late pontiff. He is in his sixty-sixth year and one of the few surviving members of the college raised to the cardinalate by Leo XIII.

MUNDAY ASSERTS HIS INNOCENCE

Three Indicted in Chicago Bank-Wrecking Investigation.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Criminal prosecution was started yesterday against three officials of the La Salle Street National bank the Lorimer-Munday institution, which was the predecessor of the defunct La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank.

The indictments were returned by the federal grand jury in open court before Judge Geiger. They charge misapplication of the bank's moneys and the making of false entries, in violation of the national banking act.

Those named in the indictments were: CHARLES B. MUNDAY, vice president of the bank. Charged in fifteen counts with having made false entries and in fourteen counts with misapplication of funds.

CHARLES G. FOX, cashier of the old national bank and vice president of the now closed state bank, charged in fifteen counts with having made false entries.

THOMAS M'DONALD, auditor of the national bank and cashier of its successor, charged in fifteen counts with having made false entries.

Quick Action Required.

The indictments cover alleged illegal acts against which the statute of limitations would have operated within a few days. As regards the false entry charges, the statute would have run today, and in the matter of the misapplication charges, the time limit would have expired between Sept. 2 and 13.

The true bills are rumored to be but the forerunner of the big indictments as regards the old national bank. These indictments, it is reported, may not be returned for two weeks. It is expected that they will name not only Munday but William Lorimer, H. W. Huttig and J. P. Gallagher. Further true bills are being drawn, it is said, by John Byrne, the government indictment expert, and Assistant District Attorney Joseph B. Fleming.

Plan to Get Bonds.

An agreement was reached between District Attorney Wilkerson and Colonel Milton J. Foreman, representing the defendants, that bonds should be fixed when Judge Carpenter returns next week from Michigan. Mr. Foreman gave personal assurance that his clients would appear when wanted. For that reason they were not arrested.

In the indictments returned yesterday Munday appears as the real culprit. Fox and McDonald are charged with having falsified the bank's records knowingly in order to conceal the alleged operations of their chief.

False Entry Charges.

It is charged that on Aug. 28, 1911, the bank's books showed a balance of $393,372.27, while the real amount of cash was $193,372.27. Munday is held responsible for this record.

The misapplication charges are based upon the allegation that promissory notes of C. B. Munday & Co., a copartnership composed of C. B. Munday and J. G. Munday were discounted by the bank through Munday without sanction of the bank's officers. It is charged C. B. Munday knew the notes were worthless. It is alleged: "The amounts were wholly lost to the bank."

The notes bearing dates of maturity from thirty to sixty days after dates in September, 1911, were carried in the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank at the time of its collapse. These notes were for a total of $35,000, and were said to be the first transactions whereby money was taken from the bank and given to the concerns controlled by C. B. Munday. Between September, 1911, and the date the bank collapsed the amount is said to have increased to more than $500,000.

Munday Claims Innocence.

C. B. Munday issued a statement following the return of the indictments. He said:

"All I care to say is that I hope the public will not form an opinion hastily, but rather will wait until I have had an opportunity to present my defense. I am positive that when this case comes to trial, if it ever does, the charges against me will be comparatively disproved."

WHAT "CLOSE FORMATION" DID.

Antwerp, Aug. 28.—A Belgian lancer telling of one of the fights in which German infantry were sent against the deadly Liege forts in the amazing "close formation" of the first Napoleonic days, said: "It was tragic the way those poor fellows were driven up to the guns of the forts. They came in massed formation. They stood with about fifteen paces between ranks—a solid mass which even a woman might have hit. We simply couldn't miss them. Our great guns cut long avenues in their ranks. Before our infantry had begun to charge heaps of dead and dying lay in masses in the fields. I do not believe that anyone realizes what the spectacle was like. Our men charged repeatedly with fixed bayonets. They did not care. They saw red. Nothing seemed to stop them. Every time they charged the German troops turned and ran. They were struck in the back and killed like cattle. It was horrible. Then the cavalry charged them.

Washington, Aug. 28.—There are strange doings these days in diplomatic circles. People who have wined and dined and played tennis together pass with a stony stare. They must. The countries they represent are at war and diplomatic regulations require that ambassadors representing hostile countries shall cease to hold any sort of communication with one another.

This regulation is strictly interpreted and rigidly enforced. It means that the German ambassador and the French ambassador do not know each other when they pass on the street. If by accident they should meet at any social affair, they would meet as entire strangers acknowledging introductions, but immediately separating without even a comment on the weather. It means also that the wives who have been entertaining one another at teas and meeting continually at all kinds of social affairs cease to meet and cease to hold any sort of communication. They may not telephone to one another. If there are any social engagements pending they are cancelled.

The German ambassador, Count J. H. von Bernstorff, has been away from Washington and is now in New York, where he is diligently giving out interviews. This is most unusual, but it is known that he is acting under orders from Berlin, where it is felt that something must be done to correct an unfavorable public opinion in the United States held by people who have thought the present war to be the result of the kaiser's activity. Count von Bernstorff is insisting that Russia made the initial move by mobilizing her troops.

Ambassador Jusserand, of France, has observed the usual diplomatic good form in refraining from any comment on the war. He and Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice have just arrived in Washington. They are diplomatically and personally good friends. The British ambassador came on the American liner, St. Paul, incognito. The Russian ambassador is not in Washington, the Bakhmeteffs being at Newport, where, as usual, the embassy is maintained during the summer months.

The Russian ambassador's wife is a sister of John R. McLean, proprietor of the Washington Post. She and the family of the German ambassador have always been on intimate terms and the sudden change in their social relations is an indication of the unusual results which may follow a strict application of old-world diplomatic etiquet.

Viscount Sutemi Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, has been in the city with a considerable force of clerk and has been quite frank in discussing the attitude of Japan toward Germany. The Japanese are squaring an old account laid up at the time Germany prevented Japan reaping the fruits of their victory over China in 1895.

The Austria-Hungary ambassador, Dr. Constantin T. Dumba, avoids the social complications at Washington by remaining at Manchester, Mass. All important business of the embassy is conducted there, but diplomatic requirements make it necessary for the clerks who are left in Washington to cease communication with any of the embassies representing hostile countries. The same rule which requires ambassadors' wives to refrain from meeting the wives of ambassadors representing warring countries is carried out by subordinates in the embassies. Counselors, attaches, secretaries and messengers all become strangers to the persons holding similar positions in the embassies representing the enemy.

It is notable that there is no representative in Washington of Servia, one of the warring nations and one of the important nations in the present situation. Servia has not been permitted by Austria-Hungary to enjoy this incident of sovereignty. To maintain an ambassador in foreign courts is the test of national sovereignty and while there are representatives in Washington of Siam, Paraguay, Panama and Haiti it has irked Servia and the Balkan nations that they should be denied existence as independent and sovereign entities. The overbearing attitude of Austria-Hungary towards Servia and the continuous impositions on Servia, culminating in the demand that certain propaganda against Austria be discontinued, proved to be the immediate cause for the explosion in the war arsenal of Europe. No doubt the Servians anticipate that one result of the war will be the recognition of Servia as a nation entitled to its own ambassador at the courts of other nations.

Favorite Remedy for Diarrhoea.

"About three years ago I had a serious attack of summer complaint. The doctor's medicine failed to benefit me, so I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy upon the recommendation of one of my neighbors. One dose of it did me more good than all the other medicine I had used. I improved rapidly and in a short time I was well," writes Mrs. May Higgins, Peru, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

We never believed in the boycott, but the appeal of the Providence, R. I., Housewives' League, to all Americans to join a general movement against dealers inclined to force high prices for foodstuffs, should meet with the approval of every fair minded citizen. This appeal should also mention that no food can be bought at such reasonable prices as Geller's delicious bread, rolls and coffee-cakes. 26-28

Paris, Aug. 28.—The man of the hour in France is Gen. J. J. C. Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French armies.

The French idolize the dashing type of general—the slim fellow, with pointed mustache and eagle eye—the beau ideal like General Beauregard, of the American confederate army.

Joffre is none such. He's rather stocky and heavy of jaw. He looks more like an English or American officer. And the French are cottoning to him, because, they say, he's solid, he's not impulsive, he won't throw away the armies of that dear France.

Gen. Joffre

Joffre is credited with being an organizer of victory. He does not believe in flashes of genius. He knows that long and careful preparation is necessary.

He has been at the head of the army for three years. Never for a single waking hour in those three years has he forgotten the purpose for which he was appointed —to prepare for the struggle in which France is engaged today.

If a month or two ago you had gone to see him at his home in Paris you would have found a stout man, heavily built, apparently living the ordinary life of a professional Parisian with his wife and daughters. His is a pleasant, airy house. If you were asked whether anything about it made a particular impression upon you, you would probably say, "Yes, its restfulness." Gen. Joffre is a restful man. His wide brow, under close-cropped white hair, is tranquil. His blue eyes are calm and clear. Beneath a heavy, white mustache his lips are firm; they show his teeth a little when he talks.

He does not talk much. What he says is pithy and to the point, the result of quiet reflection and study, expressed in quiet, straightforward sentences. A man of gentle, kindly manners, slow-moving, contemplative. That is Gen. Joffre at home.

In the field, as in his office at the ministry of war, he is another man, a "man as hard as nails." He gives orders and expects them to be carried out exactly; if they are not there is trouble. He may sympathize with the incompetent, but he can not overlook failure. After the maneuvers of last year he dismissed five generals. France, which had known little of this masterful chief of the general staff before, suddenly became aware that its armies were being reorganized by an exceptional man.

When war was declared in 1870 he had scarcely finished one year at the Polytechnique, which is the French West Point. At 18, therefore, he was given his commission, and as an artillery subaltern took part in the defense of Paris during the siege.

He attracted attention; he was employed in the reconstructing of the Paris fortifications. The forts at Enghein were of his designing, and one day Marshal MacMahon, after inspecting his work, put a hand upon his shoulder and said, "I congratulate you, Captain Joffre."

Captain at 22!

A few years later he went out to command troops in the field. He was victorious in Tonkin (French Indo-China). After this he won distinction in Formosa, in Madagascar, in Dahomey, and then in Timbuctoo, whither he led the remains of the broken column of Colonel Bonnier after he had put new spirit into the men.

By seizing every chance of foreign service, he learned his profession in the field.

Then, in the middle nineties, he came back to France and went steadily upwards, working hard all the time, until he was in 1911 asked to take the chief command.

Joffre maintains that the warlike genius of the French is as strong as ever, that modern luxury has not weakened the dash and vigor of the French soldier.

MANY SPIES SHOT IN PARIS.

Paris, Aug. 28.—The spy mania is rampant. It is said that numbers have been shot for attempting to give information to the enemy. There is talk of a wireless installation on the top of a fashionable hotel in the Champs Elysees. According to the story, the military called there the other morning, held a court martial and summarily executed the manager.

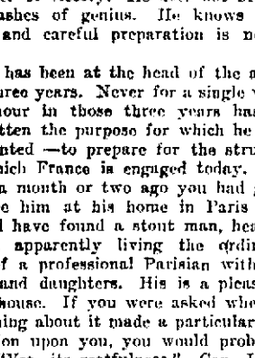
Sleeveless Gowns Require Hairless Arms

Fashion says sleeveless, low-necked gowns for this season. This means hairless arms and neck. If you do not want to be humiliated, Meyer Bros. Co. says that the safest, best and quickest way to be absolutely free from all trace of superfluous hair is to use the famous medical prescription known as Mrs. Osgood's Wonder for Superfluous Hair.

It is delightful to use and absolutely harmless. A single application makes hair on face, neck, arms, hands or any other part of the body quickly disappear.

The cost is small and Meyer Bros. Co. will supply you, or in fact, any up-to-date druggist or department store, on a Money-Back guarantee basis.



Is a better investment for your money than to pay for moving picture and theater tickets—the latter brings you in nothing but a night's enjoyment, while our Night School fits you for your life's employment.

For better salary—choose our night school. Day and night classes begin Aug. 31, 1914. Particulars free. Ask for them.

CANAL DOESN'T PAY EXPENSES

European War Holds Down Receipts of Big Ditch to Small Figure.

Washington, Aug. 28. As a direct result of war in France, receipts from the operation of the Panama canal have failed to pay the expenses of the great waterway. Tolls during the first week of traffic in the canal amounted to only about $15,000. That was not enough to pay operating expenses, much less meet the interest payment on the cost capital invested. Prof. Emory Johnson estimated that the receipts from tolls at the end of the first two years would be about twenty-four or twenty-five million dollars. Canal officials, however, are confident there will be a big increase in business as soon as the trade routes are reestablished and interference with commerce disappears through some decisive victory in the war. Also it is anticipated that a great fleet of vessels under American and other neutral flags will soon me plying through the waterway to handle the west coast trade of South Africa, so that the balance will soon be on the right side of the canal's ledger.

Reports received late Friday afternoon from the St. Joseph hospital are to the effect that Miss Beatrice Rhine, who drank some spirits of ammonia Wednesday afternoon with suicidal intent, is slowly sinking and that death will only be the question of a few hours.

Thursday morning she seemed to rally but in the afternoon her condition became worse and has continued to do so until now all hope has been given up. It is thought that her mind was slightly affected, caused by overexertion in the heat of the sun, when she tried to commit suicide.

POVERTY IS PLEA OF WABASH ROAD

Poverty was the plea of the Wabash railroad through its officials who met Friday afternoon in conference with Mayor Hosey, Members Singrey, Kelly and Hilgeman, of the board of works, City Attorney Colerick and City Engineer Randall to discuss completion of track elevation at Taylor street and Thompson avenue. Chief Engineer A. C. Cunningham, Division Engineer W. S. Danes and Attorney Fred Zollars represented the railroad in the conference.

The city officials went into the conference prepared to stand pat on the board of works' resolution of August 18, amending track elevation resolutions No. 5 and No. 8, giving the Wabash twenty days from that date to inaugurate permanent work at the two streets, where unfinished work has been lying for two years.

Engineer Cunningham argued for more time, citing the financial condition of the Wabash, the difficulties of the receivership and the state of the money market due to the European war, which made it for the present impossible for railroads to secure money.

It was stated by a member of the board before the meeting that the city would stand pat and if the Wabash did not begin work by the date fixed the city would proceed with it.

General Superintendent S. E. Cotter and Acting Superintendent E. A. Sollitt were in the city Friday but were not present at the conference.

Agreement is Reached.

After an hour's discussion an agreement finally was reached by which the Wabash will put in the north center and south columns for the Taylor street and Thompson avenue bridges, which will permit the roadway to be cleaned up and made passable, and next year put in the abutments and complete the work.

NEW QUESTION IS RAISED.

In connection with other questions relating to the installation of sewer pumps to relieve Lakeside during high water the matter of paying the cost of operation has come up for consideration. Mayor Hosey calls attention to the fact that the city light and power department is prevented by the public utility act of Indiana from furnishing electric current to operate the pumps without making a charge for it according to the city schedules in force. The installation of the pumps is a matter of local improvement for which the Lakeside and Forest Park districts will be assessed and the position is taken that their operation, being only of benefit to that district, should be paid for by all beneficiaries. Just how an assessment for this purpose will be worked is not yet decided, but the mayor thinks that it will involve some sort of covenant that will cover the property in the district.

The board of works will doubtless soon take steps to condemn the three lots needed for a pump site at the end of the new short sewer that is to connect the Tecumseh and Morton street main sewers with the pumps. They are owned by James S. Peddicord, who wants $400 each for them together with interest at 6 per cent. annually on the sum of $1,200 during the time he has owned the lots. Mayor Hosey and the board take the view that as Mr. Peddicord owns a considerable number of other low-lying lots that will be directly benefitted by the pumps, his benefits and damages for the property to be taken should be adjusted so as to permit the city to acquire the three lots without cost. Mr. Peddicord's figures are held to be exhorbitant by the property owners who will be assessed. Councilman Jacob Arne of the First ward, conferred with the board Thursday evening and asked that steps be taken at once to condemn the lots required.

PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST.

Remonstrance Stops Proposed Opening of Spring Street from Short West.

Because forty-one property owners object to their assessments for the proposed opening of Spring street, from Short west, the board of works has rescinded all action on that improvement. The opening is regarded by the board as a necessary improvement, but the remonstrance is sufficient to defeat the project.

It was necessary to decide by lot for the award of three contracts of the nine for which bids on sidewalk construction were received. The Indiana Engineering and Construction company and the Grosjean Brothers submitted the same figures on three and a coin was tossed to decide. The Indiana company won two and the Grosjeans one. Contracts were awarded as follows:

Grading roadway and walks on both sides of Hillside avenue, Delaware to Forest; Grosjean, 40 cents per lineal foot for grading and 85 cents per lineal foot for sidewalks.

Walks on both sides of Monroe street, from Washington to Madison; Indiana Engineering and Construction company, 65 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on north side of Erie street, Harmer to Rogue; Indiana Engineering and Construction company, 66 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on south side of Baker street, Calhoun to Harrison; Grosjean, $1.07½ per lineal foot.

Walks on the east side of Fulton street, Berry to the alley south; Grosjean, 69 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on the east side of Webster street, Packard to Darrow; Indiana Engineering and Construction company, 73 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on the north side of Leith street, Hanna to the first alley west; Grosjean, 67 cents per lineal foot.

Walks on both sides of Maumee avenue, Harmer to Hanover; Indiana Engineering and Construction company, 81 cents per lineal foot for six-foot walks and 67 cents per lineal foot for five-foot walks.

For paving alleys the Moellering Construction company was awarded the following contracts: Alley between Calhoun and Harrison streets, Baker to the alley south, and the alley south of Baker, Calhoun to alley west, at his bid of $2.20 per lineal foot for Metropolitan block. The same company will pave the alley between Madison and Lewis streets, Lafayette to Clay, at $2.36 per lineal foot for Metropolitan block.

Bids on two other alley contracts were taken under advisement by the board to determine some points involved.

The Indiana Engineering & Construction company submitted bids for concrete on all four jobs, though there was no provision in the specifications for such material.

The board confirmed assessment rolls for the following improvements: For the widening of State boulevard, on the north side from St. Joe river to St. Joe boulevard and on the south side from the river to Parnell avenue; for the vacation of Darrow avenue from Calhoun street to the alley west; paving Francis street, Erie to Hayden; paving Killen avenue, Calhoun to Hoagland, and the construction of a sewer west of Pipta avenue. Primary assessment rolls were approved for the Bloomingdale brick sewer; paving Sherman street, High to Archer, and paving Eliza street, Clay to Winter.

Specifications were approved and resolutions were adopted for walks on both sides of Hurd street, Clay to Thomas; north side of St. Martin street, Lafayette to Hanna; grading roadway and walks on both sides of Webster street, Darrow to Rudisill; walks on south side of French avenue, Webster to Fairfield; walks on both side of Dayton avenue, Beaver to Broadway; walks on south side of Packard avenue, Indiana to South Wayne, and walks on both sides of same street, Indiana to Beaver; walks on both sides of on north side of Melita, Harrison to Fox avenue, Creighton to Home; walks Webster; grading roadway and walks on Wheeler street, Runnion to G. R. & I. tracks; grading Schilling avenue and walks on both sides of Schilling avenue, High to Sinclair; walks on west side of Dearborn street, Columbia to alley north; walks on west side of Farnell avenue, State boulevard to Charlotte.

Petitions were received asking the paving of the first alley west of Calhoun street, Wayne to the alley south; grading of roadway and walks on both sides of Gumpper avenue, Webster to Calhoun; grading of roadway and walks on both sides of Webster street, Darrow to Rudisill, and paving of Savilla avenue, Indiana to Broadway. Plans were ordered for the first three improvements.

WANT TO CHANGE BRICK.

The Moellering and Brooks Construction companies, both of which have just received awards for constucting brick street pavements, have asked the board of works to make the awards for Metropolitan block instead of Puritan block. The latter product is a trifle lower, but the contractors are advised that shipments cannot be made for two months, whereas they want the material immediately. The change will be made.

SCHOOLMATE VISITS MAYOR.

During the past two days Mayor W. J. Hosey has greatly enjoyed a visit from Patrick Purcell, of Mt. Vernon, O., who forty years and more ago was the mayor's schoolmate in the Ohio city. Mayor Hosey was born in Mt. Vernon but came to Fort Wayne when young, and he had not seen Mr. Purcell for forty years. Mr. Purcell is an officer of the juvenile court in Knox county, Ohio, and came to Fort Wayne to study the operation of the juvenile court of this county. He has returned to his home.

AVIATOR WRITES MAYOR.

J. H. Berger wired Mayor Hosey from a Pennsylvania town to know if Fort Wayne had ever seen an aeroplane flap its wings and fly, and wanting advice on the outlook for an exhibition in Fort Wayne Labor day. The mayor directed that the inquirer be answered to the effect that Fort Wayne had seen flying machines of all sorts and that the city boasted of a bird-man of its own who can do anything anybody else can with an aeroplane.

KAISER DIRECTS PRUSSIAN RELIEF

London, Aug. 28.—5:50 p. m.—A Berlin dispatch sent by the Wolff bureau and reaching here by way of Rotterdam, says that Emperor William has directed the following telegram to his ministry:

"Main headquarters, August 27. The trials to which my loyal province of east Prussia is subjected by the invasion of Russians fills me with the greatest compassion but I know the courage of my East Prussians too well to know that they are ever ready to offer themselves on the altar of the fatherland and will readily give their blood and wealth for the sake of their country and manfully bear the hardships of war.

"Confidence in the irresistable might of our heroic army and unshakeable belief in the help of a living God together with the consciousness that we are fighting for a worthy cause, should give us faith in an early delivery of Germany from its enemies.

"I wish that everything possible shall be done by the German people for those East Prussians who are obliged to leave their homes. With this in view I charge my ministry and the various state authorities to assist in the work of relief. Take thorough measures for this purpose and report to me what has been done.

"WILLIAM, Rex."

At Cushing, where another oil fire burned for some time yesterday about 200,000 barrels of oil were destroyed before it was extinguished. The loss, which is not given, is said to be covered by insurance.

New York, Aug. 28.—Thousands of women, recruited from all classes and representing many nations, all clad in somber black or white, with mourning bands around their arms, will march tomorrow afternoon down Fifth avenue in what is said to be the first "peace parade" ever held in this country, to voice a protest against war.

Just how many women will be in the "peace parade," not even the members of the Woman Peace Parade committee would hazard a guess today, but from the responses that have poured in to the committee it is certain the parade will include in its ranks many thousands. In the line will be women whose names stand high in the social registers and women whose days are spent in bread winning.

There will be delegations from hospitals, from the churches of all denominations, from the settlements of all races and from women's organizations. President Wilson commended the idea, and daily letters from pastors of churches are being received praising it.

"Business on the road is improving and the outlook is for a good movement of freight over our line in the near future," said Division Freight Agent E. T. Wood, of the Pennsylvania, just before he left for Pittsburg last night. "The hay crop in this territory is excellent and the shipments of this farm product is the heaviest in the history of the road," continued Mr. Wood. "We expect a heavy business later in the season and are getting in shape to handle it," he said.

STARTED UP ANOTHER HAMMER.

The receipt of a number of orders for forging at the Bass blacksmith shop within the past three or four days has been followed by putting two instead of one of the big hammers on full time. One of the orders calls for a steel bar with a broadened head on one end and a screw thread on the other for lock purposes. These bars range in length from nine to twenty feet, the largest weighing 2,800 pounds each. Another order is for a number of dynamo journals and it calls for upwards of sixty. Of course the shop has other work, but not enough to keep all the hammers going and the recent orders came at an opportune moment.

USED IT FOR NIGHT GOWN.

Yesterday's mail brought to a Fort Wayne man a card from one of the Pennsylvania company general officers, who is at Mackinac Island, which read as follows: "This place reminds me of the day I was in Fort Wayne. I have worn my overcoat every night for the past week." "I presume he forgot to pack his nightgown when he was getting ready for the trip," said the recipient of the card, "and the nights being chilly, he slept in his overcoat."

KAISER CAST OFF BRITISH TITLES

London, Aug. 28.—That the German emperor renounced his British titles when the rupture of the nations occurred, is confirmed in the official account of the final dealings of the British ambassador, Sir William Edward Goschen, with the German government, published last night. High tribute is paid the American minister at Berlin, James W. Gerard.

The morning after war was declared the emperor's aide brought to the British ambassador this message:

"The emperor has charged me to express to your excellency his regret for the occurrences of last night, but to tell you at the same time that you will gather from the occurrences an idea of the feelings of his people respecting the action of Great Britain in joining with other nations against her old allies of Waterloo.

"His majesty also begs that you will tell the king that he has been proud of the titles of British field marshal and British admiral, but that in consequence of what has occurred he must now at once divest himself of those titles."

The regret expressed was over the mobbing of the British embassy.

Referring to Ambassador Gerard, the British ambassador reports:

"I should also like to mention the great assistance rendered to us all by my American colleagues, Mr. Gerard and his staff. Undeterred by the hooting and hissing with which he was often greeted by the mob on entering and leaving the embassy, his excellency came repeatedly to see me to ask how he could help us and to make arrangements for the safety of stranded British subjects.

"We extricated many of these from extremely difficult situations at some personal risk to himself. His calmness and savoirfaire and his firmness in dealing with the imperial authorities gave full assurance that the protection of British subjects and interests could not have been left in more efficient and able hands."

FRANCE DOES NOT LIKE PLAN

Opposes American Purchase of Foreign Ships for Merchant Marine.

Washington, Aug. 28.—France has expressed to the United States her disapproval of certain phases of the administration's plan to build up a merchant marine through the purchase of foreign ships.

Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador, had a long talk with President Wilson yesterday and indicated, it is understood, that the French government would view with displeasure the purchase by the United States of any German-owned ships.

The discussion is not yet terminated, it being the intention of the French government further to press its objections to the plan. The viewpoint of France is that vast sums of money would be made available for the use of the Germans through the sale of ships which are now marooned in neutral ports. The French contend, moreover, that as the allies have swept German commerce off the seas, the American government would be giving resources for food supply to Germany which she otherwise would not get and which assistance the United States as a neutral, is not obliged to render.

President Wilson has argued that the proposed ships would not carry any contraband of war but things distinctly permitted to neutrals as articles of commerce. If the establishment of the government shipping, however, enabled Germany to feed not only her people but her troops in the field, France holds such an operation would be in violation of neutrality.

Aside from the question of contraband the French government thinks that the marooned German vessels if sold to this country would be tantamount to raising money through the agency of the United States. After his visit to the white house, Ambassador Jusserand conferred with officials of the state department and called on Secretary Daniels, of the navy department.

JAPANESE DWARF TREE.

This Orinetal dwarf tree was imported direct from Japan by Will H. Noll just recently, and is the first of its kind in Fort Wayne. The rugged, gnarled and twisted appearance of its trunk and long extending branches, which are produced by a secret stunting process known only to the Japanese, is really interesting and should be seen. These picturesque branching trees are to be seen in nearly all Japanese gardens and are called "Enko" trees, derived from the name of a long armed monkey. Often the branches extend out from the trunk 25 feet and the tree itself has been known to reach the age of 300 years. August number of Vogue devotes 3 full pages to Japanese Dwarf Trees and their effect in producting miniature gardens.

All foreign trees and shrubbery are subject to state inspection for scale and other tree diseases when imported into the United States and when the assistant state entomologist made a special trip from Indianapolis to Fort Wayne, last week, to inspect this tree, he fully expected to see a tree a least 5 to 10 feet high. The joke was such a good one that he had a snap shot of it taken in order to show his chief.

When Frank Sullivan gets his hide steeped in booze the tawdry glitter of cheap jewelry exercises a peculiar fascination upon him and he falls. Thursday afternoon he was arrested by Officer Majors for stealing two stick pins, worth a dime each, from the Independent 5 and 10 cent store, on Calhoun street. He pleaded guilty Friday morning and took $10 and costs and twenty days in jail for the offense. A few months ago Sullivan was arrested and convicted for the same offense in the same store and served thirty days for it. He says that at long intervals he resorts to whisky for a stomach trouble and that when he drinks he cannot resist the temptation to hook things that are bright and shining. Sullivan works in a down town hotel as part of the kitchen staff.

Bike Thief a Doper.

James Freeman, aged 20, pleaded guilty to stealing a bicycle from the Foster Furniture company and was given $10 and costs and thirty days on a charge of petit larceny. The stolen wheel was a new machine worth $40, but as a matter of leniency the owners of the wheel put the value at $24 that a charge of grand larceny might not be forced. Freeman was arrested in Toledo and brought back here. While he denied that he is a user of narcotic drugs, he bears every evidence of it.

Ertle Not Found Guilty.

"I'm not going to send you to jail this morning, because you've got a good wife and two little children at home. You've been contributing about $2 a week to the support of your family. That's shameful. You must do better than that." And with these words Judge Kerr entered an indefinite continuance in the case of Joe Ertle, charged with petit larceny. It wasn't much of a vindication, but it answered Joseph's purpose very well. He was accused of having stolen three chickens from Richard W. Potts, night watchman at the Bash Packing company's plant in the east end. Potts, with his wife and child, has a residence in the office of the plant. Ertle was seen Wednesday night with three chickens in a nearby saloon. His wife testified that she kept chickens and that Thursday morning three were missing.

Abating a Nuisance.

"You're getting to be a public nuisance with your neighborhood rows and your beating up people, and it's got to stop." One dollar and costs and ten days in jail, jail sentence suspended," was the announcement of Judge Kerr to Oscar Foster, a young man who, despite the infirmity of having only a wooden right leg and no right arm at all, has been in the city court twice within a few weeks for assault and battery. Esper Maloly was the complaining witness and the trouble grew out of the accusation that Foster had stolen hay from Maloly's stable. "He struck me with a club made of the butt of a whip and he kicked me with his wooden leg, but I knew it was against the law to touch a cripple so I didn't do anything, but I could have beaten him up," said Maloly, who doubtless could, for he is a big and husky man.

The case against Emil Altenau, a well known plastering contractor for disorderly conduct, was continued until next Wednesday after an attorney had entered a plea of not guilty and the testimony of three policemen had been taken. Traffic Officers Hartzell testified that Altenau tried to drive his horse and wagon around the side of a car at the transfer corner and then tried to drive over him when he remonstrated and seized the horse by the bridle. Officers Boseker and Pattee had just dismounted from a car and seeing Officer Hartzell in trouble, went to his assistance. It was testified that Altenau tried to strike Hartzell with a piece of scantling and then menaced Officer Boseker with a heavy hitching weight. Force was necessary to overpower the man, who was taken to headquarters. He was said to have loudly cursed all the way over.

Other City Court Cases.

John Brown was the name given by a man from New Haven who came to the city, got drunk and made a nuisance of himself around the interurban station. He was allowed to go home.

Charles Beam said he had "stomach strokes" and not a souse at the west end of Berry street, where he was found on the sidewalk down and out. He was put under $25 bond to keep him in hand until Saturday. He was not entirely over the "stomach strokes" while in court.

Jeff Myers did not go to Roanoke as he promised a few days ago when in court on a drunk charge and said he could not remember how many times he had been arrested this year. My memory's about gone," he pleaded. He was sent over with $5 and costs atop of him.

Allen Stuart and Thomas Corman, two young fellows who were drunk and begging on the streets a few nights since, were turned loose when they allowed that thirty minutes apiece would get them each out of town.

Ed Miller, a Chicago traveling man, was hitched up to a disorderly souse at the Bich hotel early Friday morning and was pinched. He paid $1 and costs.

Al Hoover, the lad charged with stealing some brass from the Wabash yards, was turned over to his father and let go. His parents established a near-alibi for the youngster.

When All World Has Been at War.

THE CRUSADES (1096-1272)—Great military expeditions undertaken by the Christian nations of Europe to rescue the holy places of Palestine from the Mohammedans. They were eight in number.

THE THIRTY YEARS' WAR (1618-1648)—The Catholic princes of Germany finally were defeated by an alliance composed of the Protestant states and cities of the empire and France and Sweden. By the famous Peace of Westphalia, France got Metz, Toul and Verdun, in Lorraine, and a great part of Alsace.

THE WAR OF THE SPANISH NETHERLANDS (1667-1668)—Holland, England and Sweden aided the Spanish Netherlands, or Belgium, against France.

THE WAR WITH HOLLAND (1672-1678)—Louis XIV. emerged from the struggle with Holland and her allies, England, Sweden and some of the German princes, with a large increase of territory.

THE WAR OF THE PALATINATE (1689-1697)—The members of the Grand Alliance, England, Holland, Sweden, Spain, the German Emperor, the Elector Palatine, Bavaria and Saxony, finally compelled Louis XIV. to surrender places in Southern Germany which he had seized.

THE WAR OF THE SPANISH SUCCESSION (1701-1712)—So-called because of the attempt to seat the grandson of Louis XIV., of France, on the throne of Spain. England got Gibraltar and the Island of Minorca, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and the Hudson Bay territory. Austria was given Milan, Naples, Sardinia and the Spanish Netherlands (Belgium).

THE SWEDISH WARS (1700-1721)—Sweden opposed Denmark, Saxony, Poland and Russia. Russia acquired all Sweden's Southern Baltic lands.

THE WAR OF THE AUSTRIAN SUCCESSION (1740-1748)—Frederick the Great, of Prussia, seized Silesia from the Austrian Hapsburgs and held it against Austria, Hungary, France, England and Sardinia.

THE SEVEN YEARS' WAR (1756-1763)—Russia vacillated in this struggle, siding first with the allies, then with Prussia, and then with the allies. Prussia, practically alone, fought Austria-Hungary, France, Russia, Poland, Saxony and Sweden. England was a temporizing ally. Prussia became exalted as the foremost German state, shouldering aside Austria, and from thence on was a rallying point for the other German kingdoms and principalities.

NAPOLEONIC WARS (1795-1815)—Napoleon brought under subjection to his arms almost the whole of continental Europe. For twenty years war shook the nations. Finally England and Prussia and their smaller allies defeated him at Waterloo.

CRIMEAN WAR (1853-1856)—Great Britain and her allies, France, Sardinia and Turkey, defeated Russia.

THE BALKAN-TURKEY WAR (1912-1913)—Bulgaria, Servia, Montenegro and Greece fought Turkey because of atrocities upon the Christian population within the Ottoman borders. Turkey was defeated, and would have lost all her European possessions except for the intervention of the powers.

THE BALKAN WAR (1913)—Greece, Servia and Montenegro fell upon their former ally, Bulgaria. Bulgaria was defeated and another adjustment of frontiers was made.

A DAY OF QUESTIONS.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 22:15-22.

GOLDEN TEXT—"They say unto Him, Caesar's. Then said He unto them, render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." Matt. 22:21 R. V.

The title of this lesson suggests more than the portion of Scripture selected seems to warrant. We have seen in previous lessons how the Master condemned and denounced the rulers by his teaching in parables. This led the Pharisees to take counsel how they might ensnare him (v. 15). Three questions were asked, one political, one doctrinal and one ethical. Our next lesson deals with the third question.

Secret Methods.

I. The First Question, vv. 15-22. This parable of the wicked husbandman (ch. 21) seems to have been clearly understood by the Pharisees (v. 45). While it stung it did not bring them to repentance. The hardening effect of unaccepted truth is one of its most terrible results upon the human heart. The record tells us plainly (ch. 21:46) why these Pharisees were withheld from at once putting Jesus out of the way. They therefore resorted to secret methods and endeavored to bring him into conflict with the Roman government. The Pharisees entered into this plot to entangle Jesus with their most determined enemies, the Herodian party (Mark 12:13). It was a good scheme from their viewpoint to get Jesus to utter something treasonable and then to turn him over to Herod, who was a puppet of Rome. These Pharisees scorned to pay taxes to this same government with which they are now conniving. They began with words of smooth flattery (v. 16). The devil is never so subtile, so dangerous nor so malicious as when he flatters. Apart from Jesus each party would have given quite a different reply to this question. In fancy we can see them as they must have gloatingly exclaimed, "Now we will see him entrapped." If Jesus declared it illegal to pay tribute to Caesar they could at once formulate a charge of sedition against him. On the other hand, for him to declare it proper thus to pay tribute to a foreign government would seem to them for him to deny his messianic claim, according to their understanding of the messianic program. Calling for a Roman denarius, a legal taxpaying coin worth about 17 cents, he asked, "Whose is this image and superscription?" "Caesar's," they reply, and by those words they have caught themselves and not Jesus. His reply was, in effect, "Very well, you accept the money of Rome, you must by that act accept the responsibility which accompanies it." Jesus first of all denounces their hypocrisy and then exposes the folly of their question.

His Teaching Is Plain.

II. The Second Question, v. 23-33. The rationalistic Sadducees, who did not believe in the resurrection at all, now try to entrap Jesus by questioning him along the line of their particular doctrine. The teaching of Jesus is plain and unequivocal as to the resurrection of the body and the immortality of the soul. Jesus seems in this reply rather to ignore the first and to strike at the second, which is more fundamental. Their plan of attack was very scholarly and philosophical and was designed to show the absurdity of his teaching and thus by ridicule discredit his standing. It is always a favorite way for those who quibble to imagine a suppositious case and then to put a subtile question. In this case our Lord, by one sentence demolished their well-planned attack. "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God."

The Teaching. Jesus here shows us the true relation of himself and of his people to political questions. He recognises the authority of human government and it is his will that his followers shall enjoy the liberties or privileges which that government has to offer; at the same time they are to submit themselves to its requirements under one clearly stated condition, viz., God's supreme will. In so far as the laws of the state are just and true and in harmony with the law of God it is the duty of Christian people to support and to obey them. Jesus would ally himself with neither party, thereby avoiding complicity with any measure of evil. We may likewise maintain a similar relationship with God and speak with authority in the correction of abuses, and in the direction of civic and national life.

We have purposely included the second question inasmuch as the next lesson concerns the third of this group, which ought to be studied as a whole. Jesus was ever ready to meet any question. He never equivocated, but lifts his answer out of the realm of the controversial into that of abiding principles. Jesus denounced the hypocrisy of his assailants, condemned their ignorance of the law they so loudly professed to obey and proclaimed at the same time the immortality of the soul and the resurrection of the body. He emphasizes man's responsibility to his government.

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

Secretary Bryan Advises Americans to Return Home.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Secretary Bryan yesterday cabled all American embassies and legations in Europe to urge Americans to leave Europe without delay.

Secretary Bryan issued the following formal statement:

"Americans in Europe are advised to return home as soon as they can secure transportation facilities. War creates uncertainty so that predictions about the future cannot be made with any certainty or accuracy. It is not wise, therefore, for Americans abroad to delay their return longer than necessary. This does not mean that every one should try to take the same ship, but it means there should be no unnecessary delay."

It is estimated that the total number of motor vehicles in the world is about two million two hundred and twenty-six thousand.

Compromise in League May Take Three of His Games Won.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 28.—Realizing that continued defiance of President James Frank, of the Southern Michigan league, endangered the future of organized baseball in Bay City, owners of the Beaver club have withdrawn from their rebellious stand and the team will resume play in Mt. Clemens.

The terms on which peace was declared are as follows:

Outfielder Barry's three day suspension and fine of $5 for making statements reflecting on the league head will stand. However, the three days having expired yesterday, he will play against the Bathers.

Outfielder Coombs and Pitcher Caesar to return to the game after serving five days and paying fines of $10 each for inciting Bay City riots.

Third Baseman Steele to remain under suspension for the remainder of the season and pay a fine of $25 for fighting with umpires.

Fines of $100 against Manager Danny Jenkins and $225 against the Beaver club for the playing of suspended players and failure to furnish police protection to be decided by the league at its next meeting.

The terms include no statement relative to the recent series forfeited to Saginaw. In local circles it is not thought unlikely that the three games will be thrown out as Bucky Holmes, manager of the Saginaw club, played two games on Sunday in direct violation of Mr. Frank's orders.

Settlement of the differences between the Bay City club and the league serve to alleviate a most delicate situation. Not only was the welfare of the league endangered, but owners of the Beavers' franchise were in a way to lose title to players valued at several thousands of dollars by their continued belligerent attitude.

Moreover, the dignity of the league and its executive have been upheld. Had Mr. Frank yielded to Bay City's demands, it would have indicated the ability of a single city to dictate the policies of the organization by mob rule.

In a long distance telephone communication Mr. Frank expressed his satisfaction at the ending of the trouble. So complicated were affairs yesterday that no agreement was in sight. Reports were in circulation to the effect that the Bay City club would play independent baseball for the remainder of the season. For this reason the end of the trouble seemed most remote.

In discussing the affair Mr. Frank said: "President Shares himself has investigated the matter since Sunday's riot. He has talked with umpires and players of other clubs and has become convinced that his athletes were deserving of suspension. The case of Steele is an example. After investigating his record Mr. Shares declares that he will not permit the third baseman to play on his club again.

"The whole affair has been most unfortunate. Yet I feel that it has clarified the atmosphere and that further trouble is most unlikely. Mr. Shares has previously been an ardent fan. I am convinced that as a result of his investigation he has become a magnate."

Central League Outer Defense Weak With the War Club.

Compared with the outfields of former years the men playing on the outer defense of the Central league this year are lamentably weak at bat and the latest figures made public by President Louis Heilbruner show that there are not more than three legitimate .300 men in the ranks of this year.

Charles ("Punch") Knoll, after a slump that began at Dayton and continued three years, is back in the select class and for a time led the league, and can be counted in the .300 or better circle without stretching a point.

Ray ("Deerfoot") Spencer has always been able to hold his own in class B and is legitimately entitled to his present place, which a week ago was along with the men who are leading the attack in the circuit.

Fred Streeter, Art Hauger and Mike O'Day, of Fort Wayne, Evansville and Grand Rapids respectively, have been around the .300 mark part of the season but they have barely held their own, and not one of them is of the real slugging type—the men who can be counted on to maintain their gait with runners on the bag.

Streeter beats out balls that roll slowly to the infield and builds up his batting average on that kind of play. O'Day is a good man to bunt and beat the throw to first and Hauger gets his record on real hits and hits that drive in runs, and sifted down there are really but three hard-hitting outfielders in the organization and one of them is there by a very narrow margin and his batting has never been impressive enough to put him in the first string attack.

Last season Sheldon Lejuene batted .346 in the Central league, and as the scoring in Grand Rapids was in careful hands and he never got any the best of it on the road, it is safe to say that his mark was obtained in the right way and is absolutely reliable.

Guy Tutweiler played in 115 games and quit with .343 to his credit, and there is no reason to believe that his record was padded the least bit. George Wheeler, of Terre Haute, could not do much outside of his ability to hit the ball, but he hung up an average of .345 in 107 games and was entitled to everything he got.

Charles Stewart, who went from the Springfield club to the Cubs on the strength of his batting, landed an average of .315, just the same as George Wheeler's, and big John ("Lefty") Core fence-busted his way to a mark of .324 for the Grand Rapids champs.

Eddie Roush went to the White Sox from the Evansville team on the strength of a batting average of .317, and this makes half a dozen real sluggers as compared with really two this year. Five of these men advanced in baseball on their Central league showing, and one quit the game to become a veterinary surgeon. This one was Mr. Core.

Hughie Shaw, of Dayton, hung up a mark of .325 but it was a freak and of no special benefit either to him or his team as he did not advance and was released after a few weeks this season with Dayton.

Miller of Evansville, Donahue of Terre Haute, and Grimes of Grand Rapids, all of whom played in from fifteen to thirty-three games, were in the .300 class.

Fred Bratchi and "Red" Smith of Fort Wayne, Lon Spair, Andy Kyle and "Yank" Davis of Terre Haute, "Dutch" Meister and Arista DeHaven of Dayton, Marshall, Grimes and O'Day of Grand Rapids, and Jack Kibble of Evansville, are men hitting all the way from .260 to .290 but they lack that punch that makes them dangerous and the pitchers do not fear them like they did that crew of wreckers turned out of the league in 1913.

The success of the Boston Braves is due, primarily, to Stallings, and secondarily to the wonderful inner wall of defense. Giving the pitchers all due credit the infield has stood between them and defeat day after day with the cleverest, most resourceful and brilliant defense seen on a modern team.

Not since the days of Tenney, Lowe, Long and Collins has the Hub seen such defensive play, such backing up, coaching and steadying of pitchers.

To a large extent this infield defense has been due to the great inside work of Johnny Evers, former Cub. Evers is an instinctive player, a wonderful natural fielder, a born leader and fighter and one of the closest students of the complicated inside game that baseball ever has known.

Evers always has been a great student of batters, a wonderful judge of the speed and bound of balls, a great man touching runners and a fellow who always is making plays in his head before a ball is hit. Down south before the men were acquainted with each other, Evers and Maranville discussed the way to work together around second base. Evers was willing to play either way—but Maranville is making throws to second and taking them, covering the bag and working in exactly the Evers way.

Maranville is much like Evers, small, a bundle of nerves and brain, fast working and fast thinking.

First base was a frightful problem for Stallings this spring. He expected to have Sweeney, who is a very fair second baseman, but an even better first baseman. The league saw fit to award Sweeney to Chicago and Stallings was compelled to make a first baseman to order. He tried out several, found them wanting and finally picked Schmidt.

Both Evers and Maranville snap a ball like a shot once it touches their hands. Many times Schmidt is just whirling into position and just has time to get up his hands when the ball arrives, but he grabs them—and that is enough.

Smith is the present third baseman. When this fellow first broke in at Brooklyn it looked as if the Dodgers had at last found a third baseman. For one entire season he played ball that stamped him as a coming wonder. Then he fell into the slipshod, careless, indifferent style of the Brooklyn team.

He became a second rater and finally was adjudged not worth while carrying. Boston grabbed him, first because Stallings knew him; second because Ernie Deal was wearing out under the strain.

The change of managers worked wonders. He jumped right in and commenced playing at the same gait he showed in his first year at Brooklyn. His fielding has been sensational and his hitting timely.

Deal, the reserve third baseman, is a Detroit castoff. He is today the best fielding third baseman in America; possessed of a marvelous pair of hands, and is a corking thrower. But he is not strong. Physically he cannot endure the strain of a brulsing race. If Smith should falter he will be fresh for the finish and the chances are he will be needed before the ding dong down the stretch is finished.

PASSING BATTER VERY EASY TASK

Trouble in Penalizing Pitcher Would Lie in Telling When.

Most all is said that can be said about injecting into the now overburdened baseball rules a provision penalizing pitchers who purposely pass hard hitting batsmen with runners on the bases, and there is one question to be answered.

Who is to decide when a batsman is purposely passed?

The umpire, of course, is naturally the answer. How can the umpire tell?

Unless he is gifted with something that no arbiter has ever had since the game began, he can't.

Batsmen have been passed by pitchers with the bases full and games have been lost in that way. Passes have been given at times when pitchers have been exerting all their skill to get the ball over and a whole lot of damage has resulted from bases on balls.

When a catcher deliberately stands at the outside of his box and calls for the ball it is easy enough for anybody who knows the game to tell he is giving an intentional pass.

Suppose the catcher crouches, gives his signals in the ordinary way, calls for waste balls, which means they must not be over the plate, and gets them, there is nothing on the pitcher to show that a pass was purposely given and an umpire would have one fine time deciding the matter.

Unless the men who want the rule injected have some means of determining when a batter is passed intentionally and when one is passed because the pitcher is short of control it looks like the new rule does not stand much chance.

Right here in Fort Wayne there is a disposition to abuse the terms "all-star" and "fast" as applied to baseball and other sports with no very good reason for it. For instance a team is selected from the amateur, semi-pro and professional baseball castoffs and put in the field as an "all-star" combination.

As a matter of fact there is not a star or near-star in the whole lot, and there is no very good reason for calling the clubs by any such name. True, there may not be a pirate on the Pirate club, a badger on the Badger team or a pearl in the ranks of the Pearls, but these names do not carry the inference that this "all-star" stuff does.

In the selection of all-star combinations the best players in each position is picked and it is really what it purposes to be but there are no baseball stars in Fort Wayne from which such a combination can be chosen.

Every amateur team is fast. In its application to baseball fast does not just exactly mean speed. It carries with it ability in all lines, and calling amateur combinations fast certainly is a misnomer.

A game that was to have been played at League park on Sunday afternoon between the Badgers and one of these "All-Star" aggregations has been cancelled for the reason that the Badgers believe they have a better thing in a game at Auburn. The club will hold a meeting tonight to arrange for the trip.

Heider Wear

You've all seen the suit with a sag in the collar. There are lots of them. And they're all ready-to-wear suits, too, the kind that fit only at the chest and waist and in length of leg.

It's in just such fine points as the collar that Heider-wear excels; a snug fitting collar you get and a smooth, unwrinkled suit everywhere else.

Besides measurements taken with tape and rule, our pattern drafters are supplied with answers to questions such as these: Are shoulders high, sloping or regular? Has he extra large shoulders? Is he extra hollow in front of shoulders? Is he erect or regular? Head forward? Or stoop shouldered? And so on until the cutter knows your exact build.

You always have had your suits made to measure? Good! You KNOW the advantages. But what prices have you paid? Suppose you look over our offerings this fall and put an extra ten dollar bill in your Christmas money. That's what we will save you and give you the style you want. You can't be too particular for us to satisfy.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Wheat sold down at the opening today on profit taking, but it required but little demand to check the decline. Important commission houses, describing the market as "crazy" and likening it to a dog chasing its own tail, advised customers to keep out of it. First prices were 1½c to 3c under yesterday's close and in the first fifteen minutes there was a further recession of 1c to 1c. May, touching $1.15, was exactly 10c under yesterday's top. It rose 2¾c from the bottom on a mere hint of buying.
Corn was comparatively steady in view of the break in wheat but prices opened 1c to 1¾c lower. Recovery of 1c ensued on buying by local bulls.
The close was weak 1¾c to 1¾c lower.
There was a big trade in oats. Profit-taking started the decline and brought out stop loss orders. Opening prices were ⅝c to 1¼c down. At the bottom resting orders were uncovered, under which there was an upward reaction to prices from ½c under to ⅝c over yesterday's close.
Provisions were dull and easy, opening prices being 15c lower to 5c higher.

Kaleel Bashara Says She Wrecked His Home and Procured Forgery.

Mary Maloley, the Syrian woman, who has figured much in Fort Wayne's underworld affairs, is sued in the circuit court by Kaleel Bashara, who demands $3,000 damages, alleging that the woman caused Mrs. Bashara to sue the plaintiff for divorce and that she also forged or procured to be forged the name of the plaintiff to a promissory note and mortgage for $2,500 on his residence property in this city. The complaint says that while the plaintiff was engaged in Danville, Ill., on business, the Maloley woman went to reside with Mrs. Bashara, with whom he had been living happily, peaceably and contentedly, and began to lie to his wife about him, speaking in low, degrading terms of him and making false charges and accusations of him to his wife with the intent to turn her against him and to form a hatred and dislike of him and to get her to apply for a divorce. She succeeded, says the complaint, in turning the wife's love, admiration and respect into hatred and contempt with the consequence that she applied for a divorce and when he returned from anville he was not permitted to enter his home or to see his young daughter. The complaint further says that the defendant wrongfully induced Mrs. Basrara to procure a loan of $2,500 on the plaintiff's property and that to this end the defendant either forged or procured to be forged his signature to a promissory note and mortgage.

Suit for $35,000 Damages.

Two suits for an aggregate of $35,000 damages have been filed in the circuit court against the city of Fort Wayne, the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, the Central Union Telephone company and Messrs. David R. Forgan, Edgar F. Bloom, Frank F. Fowle and John A. Morriarity, receivers for the Central Union company, for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained by Henry C. Becquette and his wife, Margaret Becquette. The complaints set out that while the plantiffs were residing, January 1, 1914, at the corner of Washington and Francis streets, he was using tracting company lighting current and that the high tension wires of the city and the two defendant companies were so intermingled and out of repair as to be in contact with primary wires and that on that date Mrs. Becquette went into the cellar and turned on an electric light, and that when she did so she received such a shock as knocked her to the floor and burned her feet and hands and disfigured her for life. The husband ran to her assistance and received a similar shock, the flesh of his hands, feet and body being literally cooked. It is said that before the accident the husband was capable of earning $50 a week and the wife in her capacity as a professional nurse, $25 a week. The sum of $25,000 is demanded for Mrs. Becquette and $10,000 for her husband.

Fingers Broken; Demands $1,000.

John Hassan, a laborer, has commenced suit in the circuit court against the Western Gas Construction company, demanding damages in the sum of $1,000 for the breaking of two fingers, which he alleges to be the result of the carelessness of a fellow employe who dropped his end of a 300 pound steel casting the two were carrying.

Notes of the Courts.

Daniel F. Bash, Nora B. Hughes and Harry E. Bash have brought suit in the circuit court against the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for $900 damages for killing of a mare and her colt on the defendant's electric railray track southwest of city. The company is charged with failure to properly fence its right of way.

Fred Lambert has started suit in the circuit court against George E. Johnson for possession of real estate and $500 damages.

In the case of the state ex rel, Cora Stirlen vs. Edgar Stirlen, Judge Ryan has issued an order citing Stirlen to appear September 5 and show cause why he has not paid certain allowances as ordered in a divorce decree granted Cora Stirlen.

The suit of Henry Minnich vs. S. Bash & Co., is still on trial before Judge Ryan and a jury in the superior court.

SHERIFF'S ACCOUNTS CORRECT.

Field Examiners Haefling and Schafer, from the state accounting board, report that they have found the accounts of Sheriff A. C. Gladieux's office entirely correct and the books accurately and correctly kept. Last year something in excess of $100,000 went through the sheriff's hands and all of this is accounted for. The field examiners pay Sheriff Gladieux a sincere tribute for the ability with which his office is administered.

For the fifth time the accounts of Township Trustee Henry E. Branning, of Wayne township, have been gone over by field examiners, and the last time, like the first time and intermediate times, he was given a clean bill.

London, Aug. 28.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Post, in describing the operations on east Prussia, tells of the difficulties which nature has placed in the way of the Russian advance and says the Germans had enormously multiplied these difficulties by a modern adaptation of age-old methods. Lakelets and marshes were sown with rifle pits and wherever practicable redoubts of felled timber were placed everywhere there were formidable wire entanglements.

"We have no exact information," the correspondent continues, "of how many corps Germany had left to oppose the Russian advance. Perhaps there were seven and possibly only five. Whatever their number three are retreating under cover of the fortresses of Koenigburg and one is in full flight on Osterode.

"All four flung away in retreat their arms and ammunition and even their food.

"The Russian armies by forced marches have driven a wedge between the German forces. So demoralizing was the Russian commander's strategy that the German forces abandoned their entrenched positions on the Angrapp without a fight.

"The authorities of east Prussia have caught the panicky feeling from Germany's armies. It is reported that the commandant of Marienberg has ordered the inhabitants to evacuate the country while at Elbing the sluices were opened with the object of flooding the country to prevent the Russian advance. These are methods of despair and indicate pretty certainly that Germany has no more trained troops to oppose the Russians. With true eyes for strategy, which mark the born commander of men, Grand Duke Nicholas has abandoned to its fate everything everywhere which did not lend itself to the attainment of a single aim of locating, attacking and crushing the enemy's main force.

"In accordance with this policy quite half of Poland was left bare of Russian troops and all public servants of Russia's state were warned to quit when the Germans advanced.

"Both the Austrians and Germans accepted the invitation to this easy conquest. There were no soldiers anywhere to meet the German invaders, whose cavalry raided as far as Lodz, but they have since been swept out again."

DEMOCRATS LOOK FOR A BIG CROWD

Candidates and Committeemen Will be Given Final Instructions

With a mass meeting to be held Saturday afternoon at headquarters on East Main street, the democrats of Fort Wayne and Allen county will officially open their campaign. The meeting is to open promptly at 1:30 o'clock, according to Secretary Otto Koenig and County Chairman W. A. Johnson will preside.

The principal addresses will be delivered by Prosecutor Harry H. Hilgeman and Edward G. Hoffman, district chairman. Other brief addresses will be called for among the candidates and among other business of the meeting, the members of the central committee will be given instructions as to the work expected of them during the coming campaign.

Registration will be discussed and each voter present will be requested to cast aside all other business September 5, in an effort to secure a complete registration on that day. The September 5 period is an extra one and it is the desire of the county organization heads to practically complete the democratic organization at that time.

Governor to Open State Democratic Campaign September 15.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28.—The democratic state campaign will be opened here the night of Sept. 15 by Governor Ralston, who was chosen yesterday afternoon to deliver the keynote speech. On the following night local meetings will be held by the democrats in nearly every county in Indiana.

The meeting of the state committee, nominees on the state ticket and democratic leaders generally at the Canoe club yesterday afternoon was attended by more than sixty men, nearly all of whom remained for a chicken dinner given by State Chairman Bernard Korbly and the state committee.

Korbly said last night that the meeting was one of the best held since he was placed at the head of the organization. It was called to get reports from every county, to arrange for the campaign opening and to consider plans for extending and strengthening the organization.

Two Members Absent.

All of the members of the committee, except E. E. Cox, of Hartford City, and W. E. Longley, of Noblesville, were present. Nearly all of the state officials and nominees on the state ticket attended the conference. National Committeeman Taggart came up from French Lick for the meeting. Governor Ralston, Mayor Bell and many other party leaders participated.

Chairman Korbly said that he was pleased with the reports made. There was a general discussion of the campaign the republicans are making to make the impression that the democrats have brought bad business conditions and that they have wasted the state finances. The committee and candidates decided to fight back and they will get under way against the republicans within a short time.

That the prolonged session of congress has proved a source of worry to the democratic leaders was apparent at the meeting. Chairman Korbly asserted that congress probably will not adjourn for several weeks, so that no help can be expected from Senators Shively and Kern and the members of the congressional delegation, all of whom are candidates for re-election. They can not return to their districts as long as congress is in session and it will be necessary for the committee to depend on local speakers. Governor Ralston will do most of the speaking for the state ticket.

AT THE TEMPLE

One of the most perfectly balanced vaudeville programs you will see in many a long day, is the current bill at the Temple, which opened yesterday afternoon and will run the remainder of the week. Headlined by a nifty musical sketch, the bill runs the gamut of vaudeville endeavor including even a strong man act done by three midgets that is a rarely amusing stunt. Sam Mylie, known wherever a laugh is enjoyed as a fun maker extraordinary, has a crack musical skit "Mixed Nuts" which gives Mylie a grand opportunity to exhibit his unique talents as a comedian. The skit, which is produced by Mylie and a company of six people, four of them pretty girls with excellent voices, tells a story of a loose nut from a New York asylum. Mylie as the loose nut has some excellent comedy lines and his lead song "I'm a Nut Sundae," is a rare touch. The girls sing "Not Today," a song that yesterday scored a tremendous hit.

The remainder of the bill is quite up to the high standard of the leading act, as it includes Cal Stewart and his funny stories about "the old hum town," the Three Marconi Brothers and their wonderful piano-accordions, the Piccolo Midgets, Selbinie and Grovini and the photo play.

Tonight from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock the Empress orchestra under the direction of J. T. Jackson, will render the first of its series of Friday evening concerts. Much interest in this treat which has been arranged by the Empress management for the entertainment of the theater's patrons, is being taken by the music lovers of the city.

The opening of the bill for the last half of the week at the Empress yesterday showed that the bill is one of the very best seen here in a long time. The Six Imperial Pekinese thrilled everyone with their wonderful stunts. The slide for life by one member of the troupe while hanging from a rope by his queue, was particularly thrilling. Adams and Guhl, famous German comedians who were recently with the Anna Held show, proved to be a scream from start to finish. Black, Hume and Thomas made a big hit as did the other acts on the bill. Chung Ling, one of the Imperial Pekinese troupe who are the talk of Fort Wayne at the present time, and are appearing at the Empress theater, will slide from the Shoaff building to the transfer corner Saturday at 12 o'clock, swinging from a cable by his hair. This actor has a reputation of being one of the most daring of his profession. Arrangements are now being made by the management of the Empress theater for the slide which will be one of the most daring the actor has ever performed. Every afternoon and evening he is making a slide, which he terms as a short one, from the ceiling of the Empress balcony to the stage, while all those who see him hold their breath.

About 350 evangelists from all parts of the world attended, the meeting being the greatest ever held. On the program were Rev. M. B. Williams, Rev. A. M. Bruner, Rev. Chester Burch, Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, Rev. John MacNeill, Rev. M. H. Lyon and Homer Rodeheaver.

The young women's conference, which is being held in connection with the Bible conference, has drawn many from all parts of the country. All denominations are represented. Miss Lois M. Lawrence is the secretary and Mrs. Carrie Stewart Besserer and Mrs. William A. Peterson are the leaders. Children's meetings are another new feature.

BELGIAN TELLS GERMAN DEMAND

London, Aug. 28.—4 a. m.—Telegraphing from Ostend the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says:

"The Germans on entering Tournai, Belgium, took the burgomaster and threatened to kill him and the other town officials if $400,000 demanded from the town was not forthcoming in two hours. The inhabitants were able to save the life of the burgomaster.

"No German forces are within twenty miles of Ostend. The German forces appear to be pressing forward all along the French frontier. I noticed all the names of towns had been obliterated from the sign posts.

"While I was in Courtrai four German officers rode into the town, which was entirely unprotected, halted at the hotel De Londres and asked if any German wounded men or prisoners were in the town. They received a negative reply and went away. The Germans first informed the hotel proprietors that they had been entirely successful against the allied forces at Mons and Charleroi and had killed ten thousand British.

"I hear in reliable quarters that several thousand German troops stationed in villages near Courtrai have been recalled to Charleroi by aeroplane messages. It seems that the Germans are hard pressed there.

"The Ostend newspapers state that in a battle between 25,000 French troops and 10,000 German troops four miles from Tournai the Germans lost 300

EHRMANN TRIAL AUGUST 28.

Terre Haute Manufacturer Expected to Plead Self-Defense.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 27.—The trial for the murder of Emil Ehrmann, the manufacturer, is set for next Friday, Aug. 28, at Rockville, a change of venue having been taken from the Vigo county court to the Parke circuit court. Ehrmann has employed several law firms, and the state will be represented by a deputy prosecutor from Vigo county, the Parke county prosecutor and by at least one attorney employed by organized labor.

At the time of the picketing of Ehrmann's overall factory by women strikers, the husband of a woman strike-breaker struck one of the women pickets. Edward Wade, a union teamster, was going to her defense when Ehrmann, in the doorway, shot him, it is alleged. The defense, it is understood, will be self-defense, based on the assertion that the factory and those connected with it were assailed by a mob.
